Bhuapur bridges, situated in Singuria, made of the concretemetal combination, the former section being laid after freedom fighters blew the bridge up partially to restrict the then Pakistani occupation army's movement. The other is at Shiyalkhol.

Similarly of the rest at Kalihati, the one at Razabari comprises the mixed structure while the remaining are at Soya, Narandia, Nagarbari and Phooltola.

"I need to be extra cautious when running over the narrow bridges," bus driver Masud Rana told The Daily Star recently. Sayeed Ahmed, plying the route everyday on way to work at a non-government organisation, said, "My heart throbs in fear each time it starts to shake when the bus crosses one." A proposal to reconstruct the seven had been submitted some three years ago to the Ministry of Road Transport and Bridges but it got stuck at the Ministry of Planning, said Rana Priyo Barua, RHD, Tangail executive engineer. Just last month a proposal to reconstruct the seven and build two culverts, totalling some 400 metres in length and expected to cost around Tk 89 crore, has again been submitted to the road ministry, he said.

It is now awaiting Executive Committee of National Economic Council (Ecnec) approval, he added.

at the fair. A butterfly park and research centre was also inaugurated.

Over 1,500 of around 80 species of butterflies, including Apefly, Plain Tiger, Common Crow, Common Grass Yellow, Monkey Puzzle, Blue Pansy and Painted Lady, were displayed at the fair.

At the fair, Prof Soharab Ali of Rajshahi University received lifetime achievement award for his contribution to the field of research on butterflies.

The fair, which ended at 4:30pm, included children's drawing competition, photography competition, and documentaries on butterflies.

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

Police detained two persons with 4,500 Yaba pills in Kalamia Bazar area of Chittagong yesterday morning.

Acting on a tip-off, police intercepted a covered van that came from Cox's Bazar and arrested its driver Shah Alam, of Ukhia upazila, as well as his helper Imam Hossain, of Teknaf upazila.

Eight reservoirs change struggled to meet their nutritional demand due to a lack of an adequate supply of vegetables.

Now they are self-sufficient in production of both vegetables and fish, thanks to the recently excavated eight sweet water reservoirs which are serving the twin purposes.

The 180 beneficiaries who are cultivating fish in the water bodies and vegetables on their banks have not only fulfilled their needs but also those of other islanders and are selling their produce outside. The unique pilot programme of UNDP Bangladesh is funded by the Netherlands.

Ctg ambulance strike holds

He travelled to Laldighi Par, a microbus hub 4km from CMCH, and hired one to take his father home at Raozan upazila, the man told The Daily Star on Thursday.

These were some of the stories of the last few days since Tuesday when the ambulance owners and drivers launched an indefinite strike, protesting "harassment" by police.

The Chittagong Metropolitan Police conducted a raid on that day and cleared the road at the CMCH's east gate where the ambulances used to be parked "illegally". The strikers and police are at loggerheads over a fixed parking space. Unfortunately, the deadlock does not seem to go away shortly, with CMP asking the strikers to stop parking there, and the strikers demanding an alternative parking According to the protesters, police had seized two ambulances and detained two drivers, who were released later, during the raid. Sources said a group of middlemen, mostly CMCH staff, who made quick bucks by hiring ambulances on behalf of patients, wanted the road for parking for their "business interests". Humayun Kabir, general secretary of Chittagong Ambulance Drivers' Association, said they had been parking ambulances there for 20 years. "Police conducted the drive and tortured the drivers on Tuesday without notice," he said. "We demanded that the authorities select an alternative stand for us but there was no response."

He mentioned that around 500 drivers and helpers of 200 ambulances in Chittagong district were passing inhumane lives with no income in three days.

Mohammad Akhteruzzaman, general secretary of Chittagong Ambulance Owners' Cooperative Association, regretted the patients' sufferings but said they did not have an alternative.

"We demanded that the authorities allow at least a few ambulances in the CMCH area because it is familiar to everyone for hiring one."

Regretting their inability, Anwar Hossain Liton, president of the owners' association, said, "We provide ambulances in any crisis moment....During the Bahaddarhat flyover tragedy a couple of years ago, we hired out 20 ambulances without thinking about who to pay." "We want a peaceful solution through discussion, and we would call off our strike as soon as the authorities select a parking zone for us in the city." Commissioner of CMP Abdul Jalil Mondol said it was lowing complaints from the adjacent Panchlaish residential area. "Many inhabitants told us that their children get scared on their way to school or college seeing dead no parking place, and police conducted the drive folbodies being put there or taken into ambulances," he said. "We asked the ambulance drivers to put signboards or stickers with their names and cell phone numbers at the emergency section of CMCH or in noticeable places adjacent to the hospital so that people could call them, if necessary."
