

BRIAN JOHNSON

“People are famous for being famous and for nothing else. And good luck to them, because it lasts about a year and then they're nothing again.”

5 October 1947
English singer and songwriter Brian Johnson has been the lead singer of Australian rock band AC/DC since 1980. He was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 2003.

When I was in school, I used to look out the window and see the big red double-deck buses driving by. It just looked so free.

Where I lived, it was a cold mining place, a village called Dunston. The only time you saw a Rolls-Royce was when somebody died.

I used to have the Range Rover LR3, which I loved very, very much.”
