

RIGHTS GO WRONG

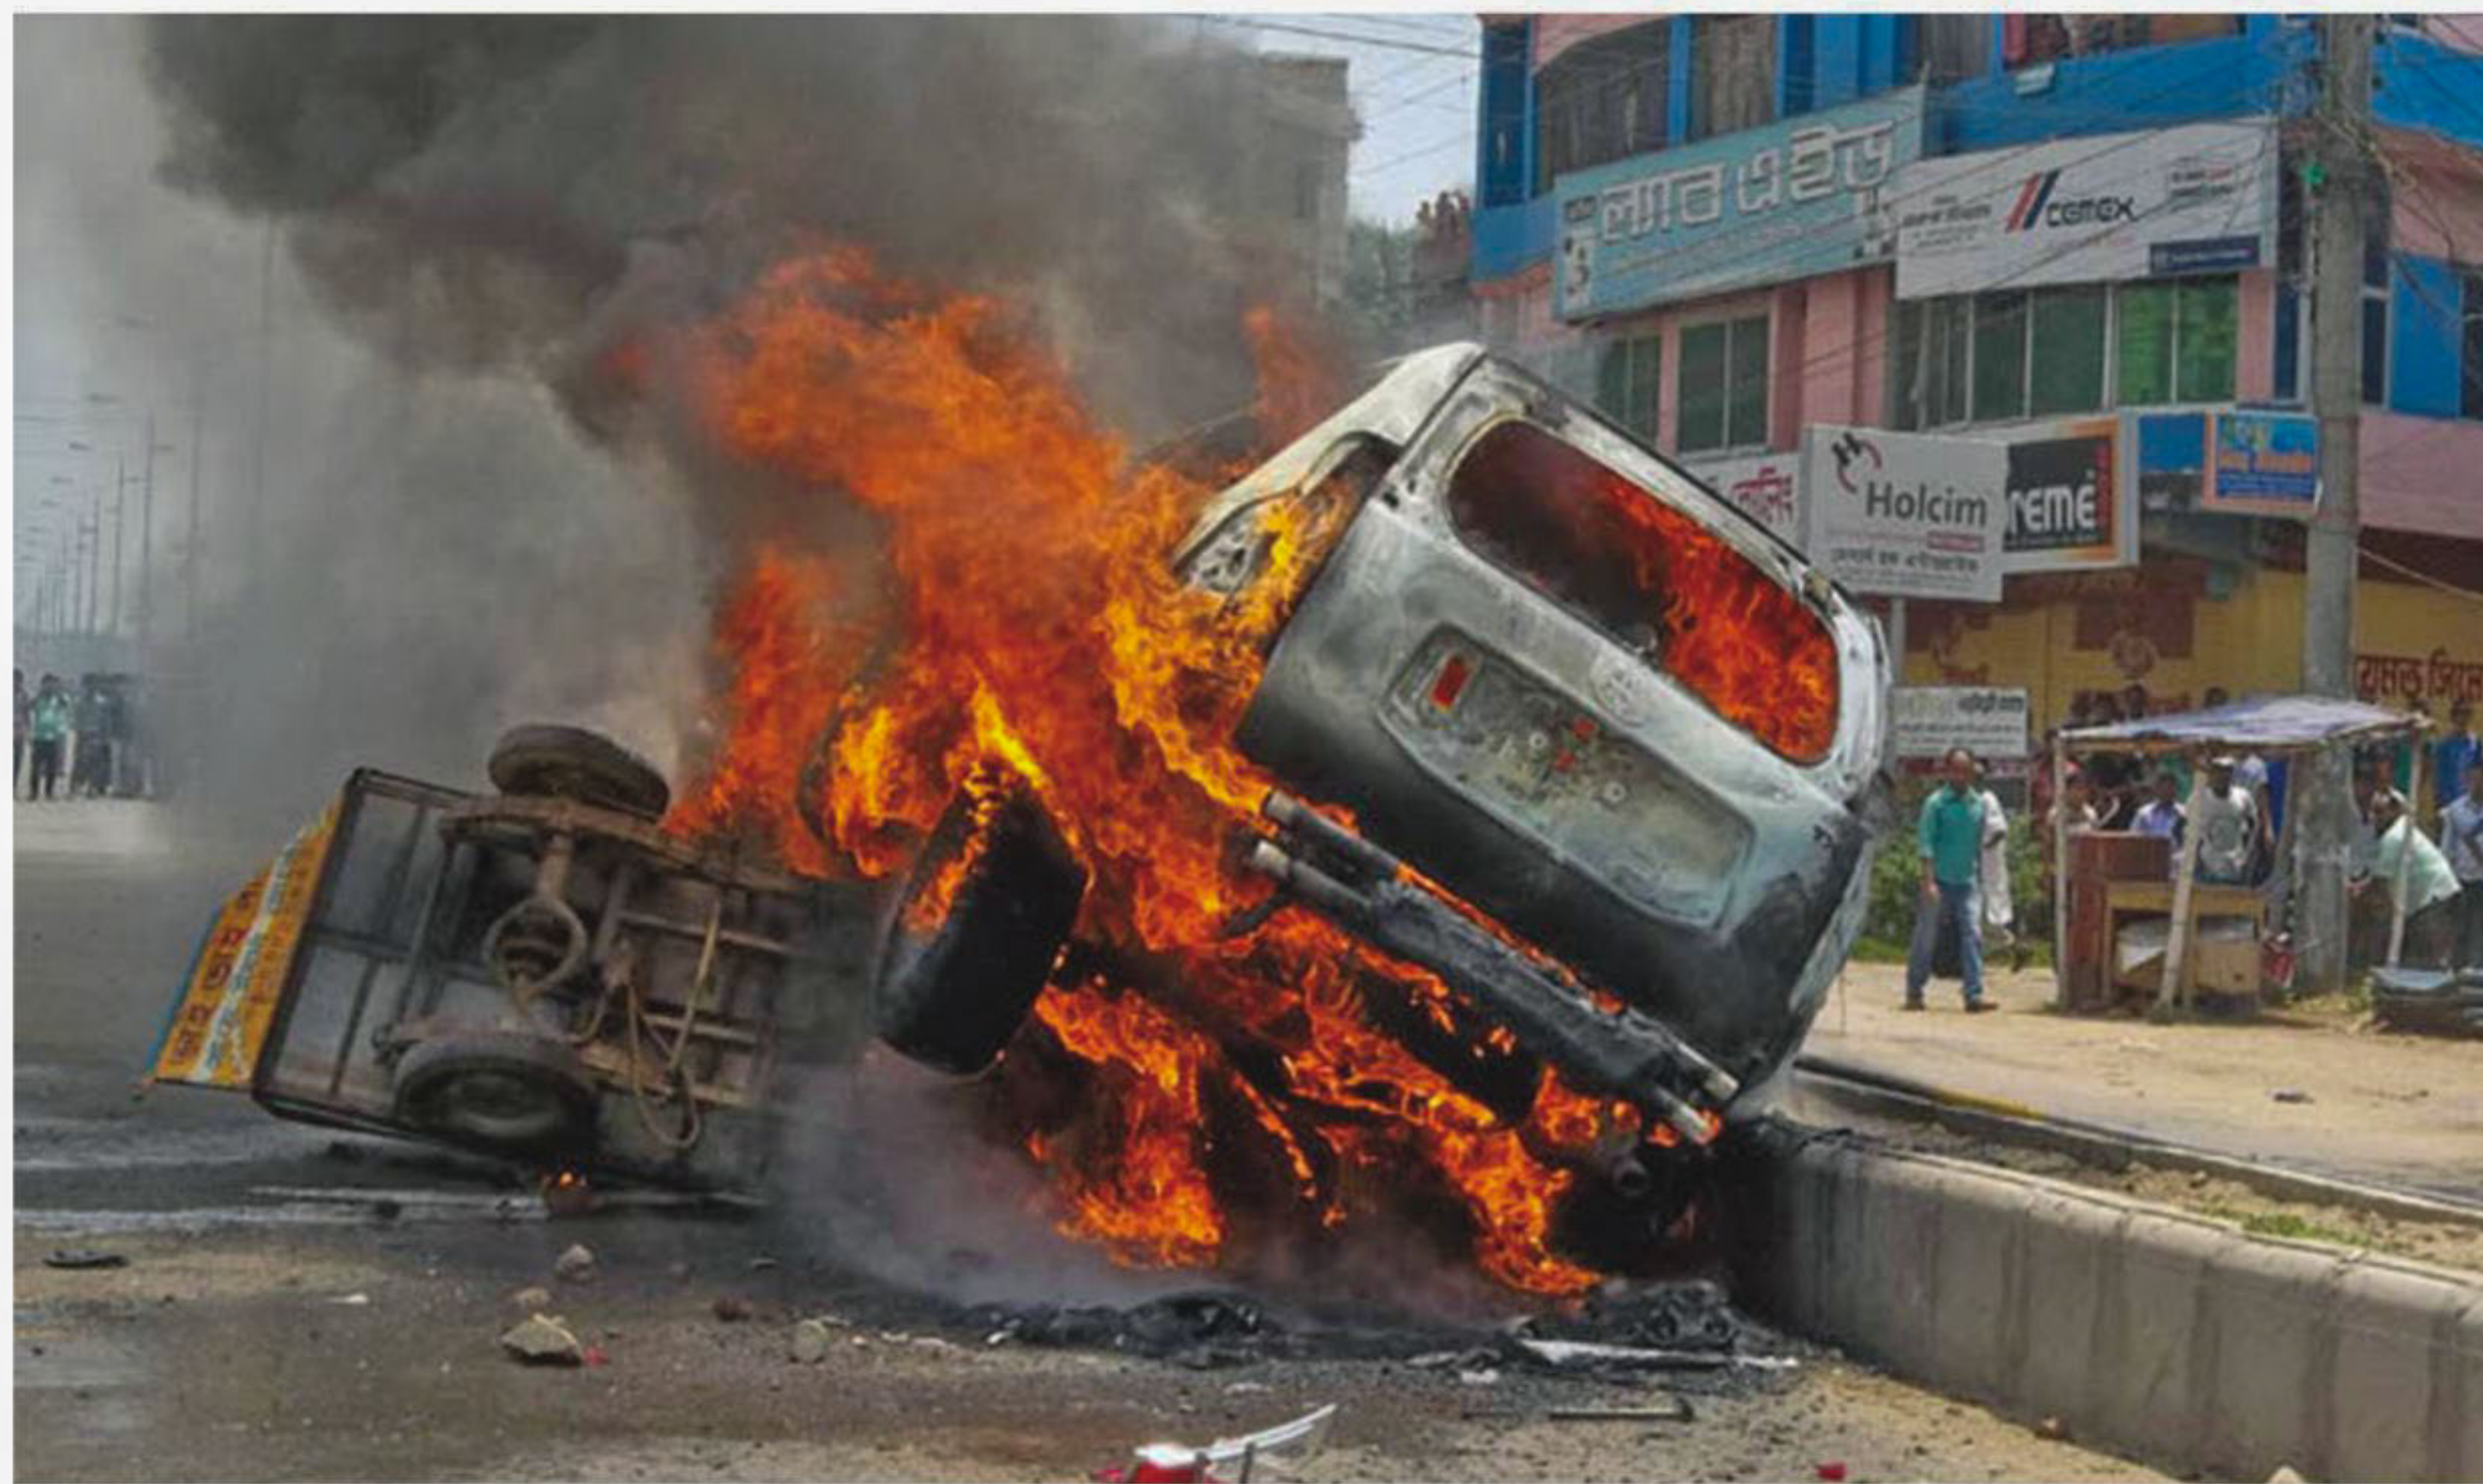

On June 13 last year at least nine people including eight members of a family were burnt alive as locals set several houses on fire at Kalshi Bihari camp in city's Mirpur area.

A group of unidentified criminals stabbed to death Prof AKM Shafiul Islam, a sociology teacher of Rajshahi University on 15 November, 2014.

A Jhalakathi court finally dropped charges against Limon Hossain in the case filed by RAB. This came nearly 15 months after charges of the first case were withdrawn following a Home Ministry order.

Feni's Phulgazi Upazlia Chairman Ekramul Haque was brutally murdered and then burnt beyond recognition on 20 May, 2014.

The sensational seven murder case unfolded with the disappearance of Ward Councillor Nazrul Islam, his lawyer and five associates along with their vehicles. Later law enforcers found the bodies in Shitalakkhya River tied to bags full of bricks.

On 15 May 2014, the double-decker ferry MV Miraj-4 capsized in the Meghna River. During the time of sink there were some 150 to 200 people on board.

On 18 October last year, a shocking BBC report revealed how dozens of Bangladeshis have been rescued after being abducted and shipped to Thailand to be sold as slaves.

On 16 December 2014, when whole country was celebrating the victory day of the country, indigenous houses and shops were burnt down by Bengali settlers in Bagachari area under Burighat union of Naniarchar upazila in Rangamati district.

The all-out attempt to rescue the 4-year old boy Jihad was the most sensational failed salvage operation of the year.