

The Aftermath

Dhaka. A man tries to salvage his tin of rice, which have gone brown in the heat from a fire which gutted over 200 homes in the Katsur slum in Mohammadpur on January 11.

Hartal Pains

Lalmonirhat. Vegetable sellers in Goshala, Lalmonirhat, look on helplessly as prices of their products experience a drastic fall due to the lack of customers, thanks to the ongoing countrywide blockade enforced by the BNP-led alliance.

24 Number of years an Indian public official was on 'leave' from his work as an assistant executive engineer in India's central public works department. A 2012 Hong Kong survey rated India's bureaucracy as the worst among major Asian countries.

7,655 Number of deaths in 2014 in Pakistan due to terrorism, militant attacks, drone strikes, sectarian violence, targeted killings, and security operations, according to a report.

4 Number of Bangladeshi workers who died from suffocation as a result of faulty heating in their room in a mountainous region North of Lebanon.

Let's Play Ball

New South Wales, Australia. Japanese fans cheer their team on against Palestine during their Group D football match of the AFC Asian Cup in Newcastle.

Unite for Free Speech

Paris, France. Luz (L) touches the face of Dr Patrick Pelloux as they and members of the Charlie Hebdo magazine team take part in the rally Marche Republicaine on January 11 in Paris in tribute to the 17 victims of the three-day killing spree.

Fighting the Cold

Douma, Syria. A Syrian man carries wood for a fire in the rebel-held city of Douma. Three small girls and an elderly man have died in Syria in the past 24 hours due to bitterly cold temperatures and a week-long storm.