

VENTURING to new horizons

Many in the media believe that any new actress that comes into the business will always have the opportunity to act beside Afzal Hossain. This belief can only have a base like this because of the fact that Afzal Hossain is such a timeless actor. You can look at it any way you want to, but in my honest opinion, heroes are supposed to be ageless and Afzal Hossain has proved that time and again. What's more amazing is that his talent isn't only restricted to acting, something we have seen time and again. Through more detailed interactions with him, it is clear that he has another deep interest. He seems to genuinely be concerned with politics and the citizens of this country. When asked directly if he wants to giving politics a try, he denies it, but despite this, you can feel that he wants to. Now I know that many believe that artists shouldn't be involved in politics but I don't really support that. If he can be an artist as well as helping out the citizens in the country, then there is no cause for concern. Afzal Hossain has reached a status where he can go forwards with this without any worries. However, for an artist to participate in politics, I believe they must possess two important characteristics: they must be honest and dedicated. With these two, plus the fact that he is so well-known, he will be able to bond with the people far quicker than any newcomer. If Afzal Hossain really wants to give politics a try, I hope that he can make peace with whatever restraints he has, and go ahead without any worries.
