

Shuvoo hitched

One of the newer headline actors of Bangladesh, Arifin Shuvoo, just got married recently, much to the anguish of his huge female fan base. His newly wed bride, Orpita Shomaddar, from Kolkata, is a fashion designer who's currently residing in Dhaka, Bangladesh. There was a small celebration held from the girl's side in Kolkata on February 6th and the main wedding celebration will be held in Dhaka on the 16th of February. When asked about how he felt, he said "I have just begun a new journey in life and I ask everyone to pray for me".

Hot Streak Pori Moni

Pori Moni is already quite a hotly discussed topic in the media these days. As of now she has acted in around 24 movies, although none of her films have yet to be released, except "Bhalobashar Shimahin", which might be released this February. Despite that her popularity is still on the rise, and to top that off, she also currently working on a TVC for Pran in the middle of all her movie madness. This should certainly help in etching her into the minds of more audiences.

Mahi says Adios

Bad news for all of Mahi's fans: she has just announced that she is resigning from the world of cinema on her Facebook status, with the intent to move to America for her studies. Before she signs off completely though, she said she will be reprising her role in Agnee 2, sequel to her box office hit film Agnee. Her latest film, Big Brother was just released last week, on Feb 6th. Following the news of her retirement from cinemas, many speculate that this is just a publicity stunt to create more buzz for her latest film.
