PM accuses BNP-Jamaat of pushing the country towards destruction

UNB, Dhaka

Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina yesterday said the BNP-Jamaat alliance had indulged in a dirty game to fully destroy the country, and sought cooperation of all to stop this criminalisation.

"When we are moving the country ahead, evil efforts are there to push it towards destruction, and this can never be tolerated," she said while addressing a programme at Osmani Memorial Auditorium.

It cannot be tolerated that people will pay the price or be killed for someone's political wrong decision or personal failure, she added.

Before addressing the function, the PM handed over the Ekushey Padak-2015 to 15 eminent personalities in recognition of their glorious contributions to respective fields.

Hasina, also chief of the ruling Awami League, sharply criticised the BNP-Jamaat alliance for burning people to death in the name of hartals and blockades.

Death warrant issued for Kamaruzzaman

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The prison authorities have read out the death warrant to condemned war criminal M u h a m m a d Kamaruzzaman, hours after a war crimes tribunal issued the warrant yesterday.

Farman Ali, senior jail super at Dhaka Central Jail, said: "I have read out the death warrant to M u h a m m a d Kamaruzzaman around 2:30pm. He wanted to talk to his lawyers for next legal steps."

Five defence lawyers are scheduled to meet him at the jail on Sunday morning for instructions.

The International Crimes Tribunal-2 issued the warrant for the Jamaat-e-Islami leader after the Supreme Court on Wednesday released the full text of its verdict upholding the death penalty.

Assistant secretary general of Jamaat, Kamaruzzaman was handed capital punishment for SEE PAGE 10 COL 1

What's in a name?

KONGKON KARMAKER, From Joypurhat

Mujibur Rahman Devdas is one of the recipients of Ekushey Padak this year.

But his name does strike us as a different one. Anyone somewhat ingrained in this culture would agree that Devdas, a name usually given to Hindus, sounds strange when juxtaposed with 'Rahman', a surname usually given to Muslims.

Yet, a former university teacher and a Muslim by faith, he had taken the name Devdas in 1971 to shake off his religious identity and to stage his symbolic protest at the Pakistan Army's brutal repression on Hindu minorities and pro-liberation forces in Rajshahi.

But this decision had cost him dearly. The SEE PAGE 10 COL 2

We are not at war with Islam: Obama

The terrorists do not speak for a billion Muslims, says the US president

AFP, Washington

US President Barack Obama has urged Western and Muslim leaders to unite to defeat the "false promises of extremism" and reject jihadists' claims to represent Islam.

In a speech on violent extremism, Obama refused to describe the militants as Islamic or Muslim extremists.

"The terrorists do not speak for a billion Muslims," Obama told delegates from 60 countries at a White House summit on countering radicalism on Wednesday.

"They try to portray themselves as religious leaders, holy warriors," he said.

"We are not going to give them the religious legitimacy they seek. They are not religious leaders, they are terrorists," he added.

In the wake of brutal jihadist attacks in Europe and the Middle East, Obama said more must be done to prevent groups like Islamic State and al-Qaeda from recruiting and radicalising.

The battle, he said, was as much for hearts and minds as one waged by the military on the ground and in the air.

The future flight

MAIL ONLINE

A Transformer-style 'flying car' being developed by an Arizona company could soon spell the end of runways.

The company's vision is to build a vehicle with four rotors that will allow it to take to the air anywhere like a helicopter - and then switch to fly like a normal plane.

While this 'SkyCruiser' vehicle is still some way from development, the technology could soon become a reality in a functioning prototype dubbed the 'SkyProwler'.

The SkyProwler has four horizontal propellers that allow it to perform vertical take-offs and landings, and to hover in mid-air.

"This opens up flying to a much larger range of possible terrains, from backyards and rough fields, to a boat on the sea," the company writes on its Kickstarter campaign.

Users can instruct the aircraft to retract its landing gear and pull its four rotor props into the sides SEE PAGE 10 COL 4
