

CHECK IT OUTBengal Meat's Kitchen

BENGAL Meat has opened a butcher shop offering the best of halal meat in the country. It has everything for the ultimate meal lover. There are varying options for fish, chicken, beef and mutton. The meat is available in raw form, as well as in marinated and frozen half-cooked form that need only slight pan frying. There are also ready to eat cold meat cuts which do not need any cooking and are great for salads and sandwiches. The frozen foods that need only pan frying consist of chicken sausage, chicken cordon bleu, lemon pepper fish fillet, breaded chicken fillet, chicken and beef burger patty and chicken lollypop.

The marinated products come in deshi and international cuisines. You would find marinated beef rezala, chicken tikka, chicken shashlik, to beef tenderloin steak, beef stir fry, buffalo chicken wings and much more.

The foreign seasons available are BBQ sauce, Yiros sweet and sour, Moroccan spicy and peanut glaze. The marinated products are really convenient as all you have to do go home and fry the meat, and your meal will be ready quickly.

The raw meat products are chicken thigh, local chicken, whole skinned chicken, beef bone and brisket, and steak. The meat products are fresh and kept in hygienic conditions with low temperatures to prevent bacterial growth.

The shop is located at Jasimuddin Road in Uttara. There are other branches of the butcher shop at Dhanmondi 15 A and Wari. The meat products are also available in all super stores. Unlike outdoor local butcher shops, the meat at Bengal Meat's Kitchen guarantees hygienic and bacteria free, halal food. It is definitely worth trying out, and you would not regret making Bengal meat products a regular in your kitchen.
