CLOURS play an important role in making your ensemble. The strongest colours are so defined that they are striking and these colours are powerful when set against each other.

We can wear them any time during the day or night. They also work in most environments and never look dated.

I have enjoyed developing this collection for Spring/Summer 2015. In this collection, I have worked with patterns and motifs. I played with scale to give it an interesting interpretation. It is always fun when you are not trying to follow set rules because then it has a shock value and you can make a fashion statement.
