ULAB's Dhaka Translation Center to Create "Library of Bangladesh"

DHAKA, 23 FEBRUARY 2015—The Dhaka Translation Center at ULAB has announced plans to create a "Library of Bangladesh" to make works by leading Bangladeshi writers accessible in high-quality translations.

ULAB celebrates a decade of excellence

ULAB celebrated the first decade of its journey with a week-long colorful program from September 28 to October 1, 2014. ULAB was launched on October 1, 2004.

The celebration was inaugurated by Dr. Kamal Abdul Naser Chowdhury, Senior Secretary, Ministry of Public Administration. He, along with senior members of ULAB, unveiled a video of ULAB's permanent campus, which will be the first sustainable green campus in Bangladesh. At the closing ceremony on October, 1, the chief guest was Mr. Asaduzzaman Noor, Hon'ble Minister, Ministry of Cultural Affairs.

ULAB's 3rd Convocation

ULAB held its third convocation on November 16, 2014. The Honorable Minister for the Ministry of Education, Mr. Nurul Islam Nahid M.P, declared the opening of the Convocation 2014 on behalf of the Honorable Chancellor and the convocation speech was delivered by the eminent writer and poet Mr. Syed Shamsul Haq.

Education Minister Nurul Islam Nahid said private universities are contributing a lot to expand the scope of higher education. He said, already hundreds of universities have their own campus. ULAB also has its own campus and is expanding it.

Versatile writer Syed Shamsul Haq said, besides schools and universities, nature is the best source of kinds of knowledge. We must pay attention to these other sources of knowledge. We must prepare ourselves for the future. We must enlighten society and country with the power of knowledge.
