

ICT'S BERGMAN VERDICT: Hearing of critiques' reply on penalty for contempt of court May 6

International Crimes Tribunal-2 yesterday fixed May 6 to hear replies of 23 eminent persons over why they should not be punished for contempt of court for issuing a statement criticising the punishment of Dhaka-based British journalist David Bergman.

The tribunal got replies of 15 but that of the remaining eight, now living abroad, are yet to reach it.

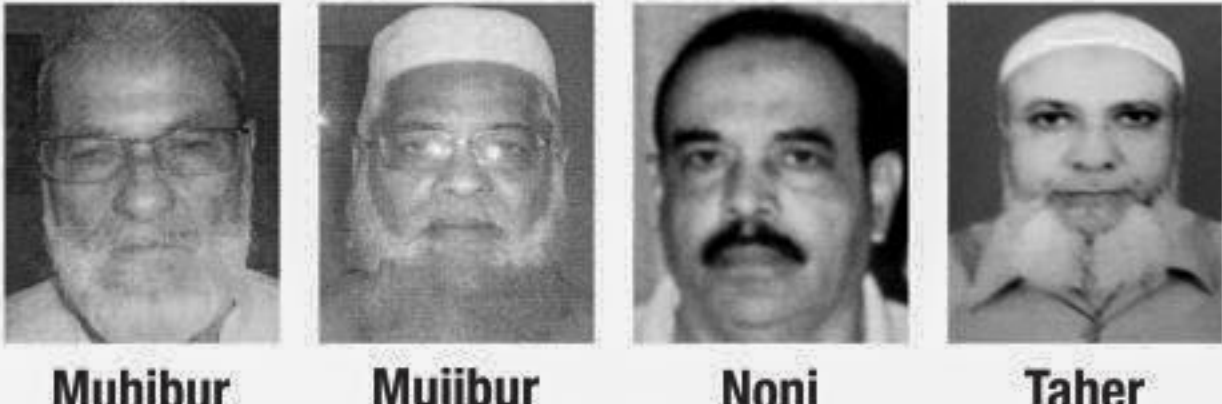

On December 2, 2014, the tribunal found Bergman, editor (special reports) of New Age, guilty of contempt for two of his blog posts of January 2013 on the verdict of Abul Kalam Azad, known as Bachchu Razakar. He was sentenced to imprisonment "till rising of the court" that day and fined Tk 5,000.

On December 20, 2014, the daily Prothom Alo ran a report titled "50 people express concern over Bergman's punishment" on the basis of the statement, which observed that the tribunal's order would restrict freedom of expression.

One signatory, Khushi Kabir, later withdrew her name. The tribunal cleared 26 citizens as they apologised unconditionally.

BNP's boycott of city polls regrettable

The polling station, he was attacked and hurt by supporters of another contestant.

Frisel said the candidate was bleeding and brought to a place, just from where they were watching the polling.

Soon afterwards, said the ambassador, the supporter groups of the two candidates started to fight each other with sticks and stones.

"The police were surprisingly passive at the start," he said.

The result was that polling was suspended and lots of voters were hindered from voting and exercising their democratic rights, the Swedish envoy said, adding that probably, it scared away even more people.

Assessing the elections as a whole, the ambassador said that after hearing reports from other teams from his own embassy and other embassies and observers, "I realise that what I experienced at Kabi Nazrul was not an isolated event."

"We also hear reports of several occasions when voters have been denied to vote because they were already ticked off in the voters list," he said. "The decision of BNP to boycott the elections is also regrettable," he added.

Over 80 foreign observers of different diplomatic missions, UN bodies, and election and rights groups along with their local officials observed the city polls in Dhaka and Chittagong.

SC starts hearing war criminal Mojaheed's appeal against death penalty

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The Supreme Court yesterday started hearing the appeal filed by Jamaat-e-Islami leader Ali Ahsan Mohammad Mojaheed challenging his death sentence for his crimes against humanity committed during the country's 1971 Liberation War.

After concluding yesterday's proceedings, a four-member bench of the Appellate Division headed by Chief Justice Surendra Kumar Sinha fixed May 4 for resuming the hearing.

Mojaheed filed his appeal with the SC on August 11, 2013 after the International Crimes Tribunal-2 had given him death penalty in connection with three charges on July 17 the same year.

According to the verdict, Mojaheed had led a "death squad" named Al-Badr that worked as an auxiliary force for the Pakistani army.

Meanwhile, Justice Md Abdul Wahhab Miah and Justice AHM Shamsuddin Choudhury Manik, who were members of the previous SC benches for hearing three other appeals filed by war criminals Abdul Quader Mollah, Delwar Hossain Sayeede and Muhammad Kamaruzzaman, were not in yesterday's bench for hearing the appeal of Mojaheed.

SC Registrar Syed Aminul Islam told The Daily Star that he did not know anything about constitutions of SC benches.
