While the country tries to move forward on every front, there are some major problems in our system holding us back. Freedom of Expression and privacy are basic human rights guaranteed in our constitution. Technological advances, mostly on the internet have given the public the space to respond to news, share opinions, start protests and voice out against the wrong. But have we always been able to use it as effectively and responsibly as we should hope to? Bangladesh is one of the few countries which have assumed laws to control internet's content.

- 4 A VULNERABLE CORE
Brings up the numerous incidents of sexual harassment against women in our society that are perpetually ignored and therefore go unpunished.
- 6 NARRATING EVIL
Talks about the civilian killings that are rampant at the India-Bangladesh border and the lack of accountability attached to these incidents.
- 3 BY HOOK OR BY CROOK
Is a satire on the Dhaka Mayoral Election.
- 14 DHAKA'S LEGACY
Talks about the history of Dhaka and how it came to be the city it is today.
