

ABIR MIRZA was first seen in an ad film playing the role of a high school student. His boy-next-door look caught the eyes of many young filmmakers. Since then, Abir has worked in short fictions and films for the silver screen in Bangladesh. Studying to be a lawyer, Abir wishes to do selective and quality work.

What are the three things you would take with you to a deserted island?
I have so many to choose from! But I would probably stick to a pen and diary, where I will store the experience, a torch or a lighter to build fire signals and also to use in the dark, lastly, a knife to hunt and protect.

What is your favourite midnight snack?
Ice Cream and chips.

Which director or directors would you like to work with in the future?
Mostofa Sarwar Farooki, Ashfaque Nipun and Adnan Al Rajeev.

What is your favourite form of exercise?
I believe in having fun while working out – badminton, table-tennis and football.

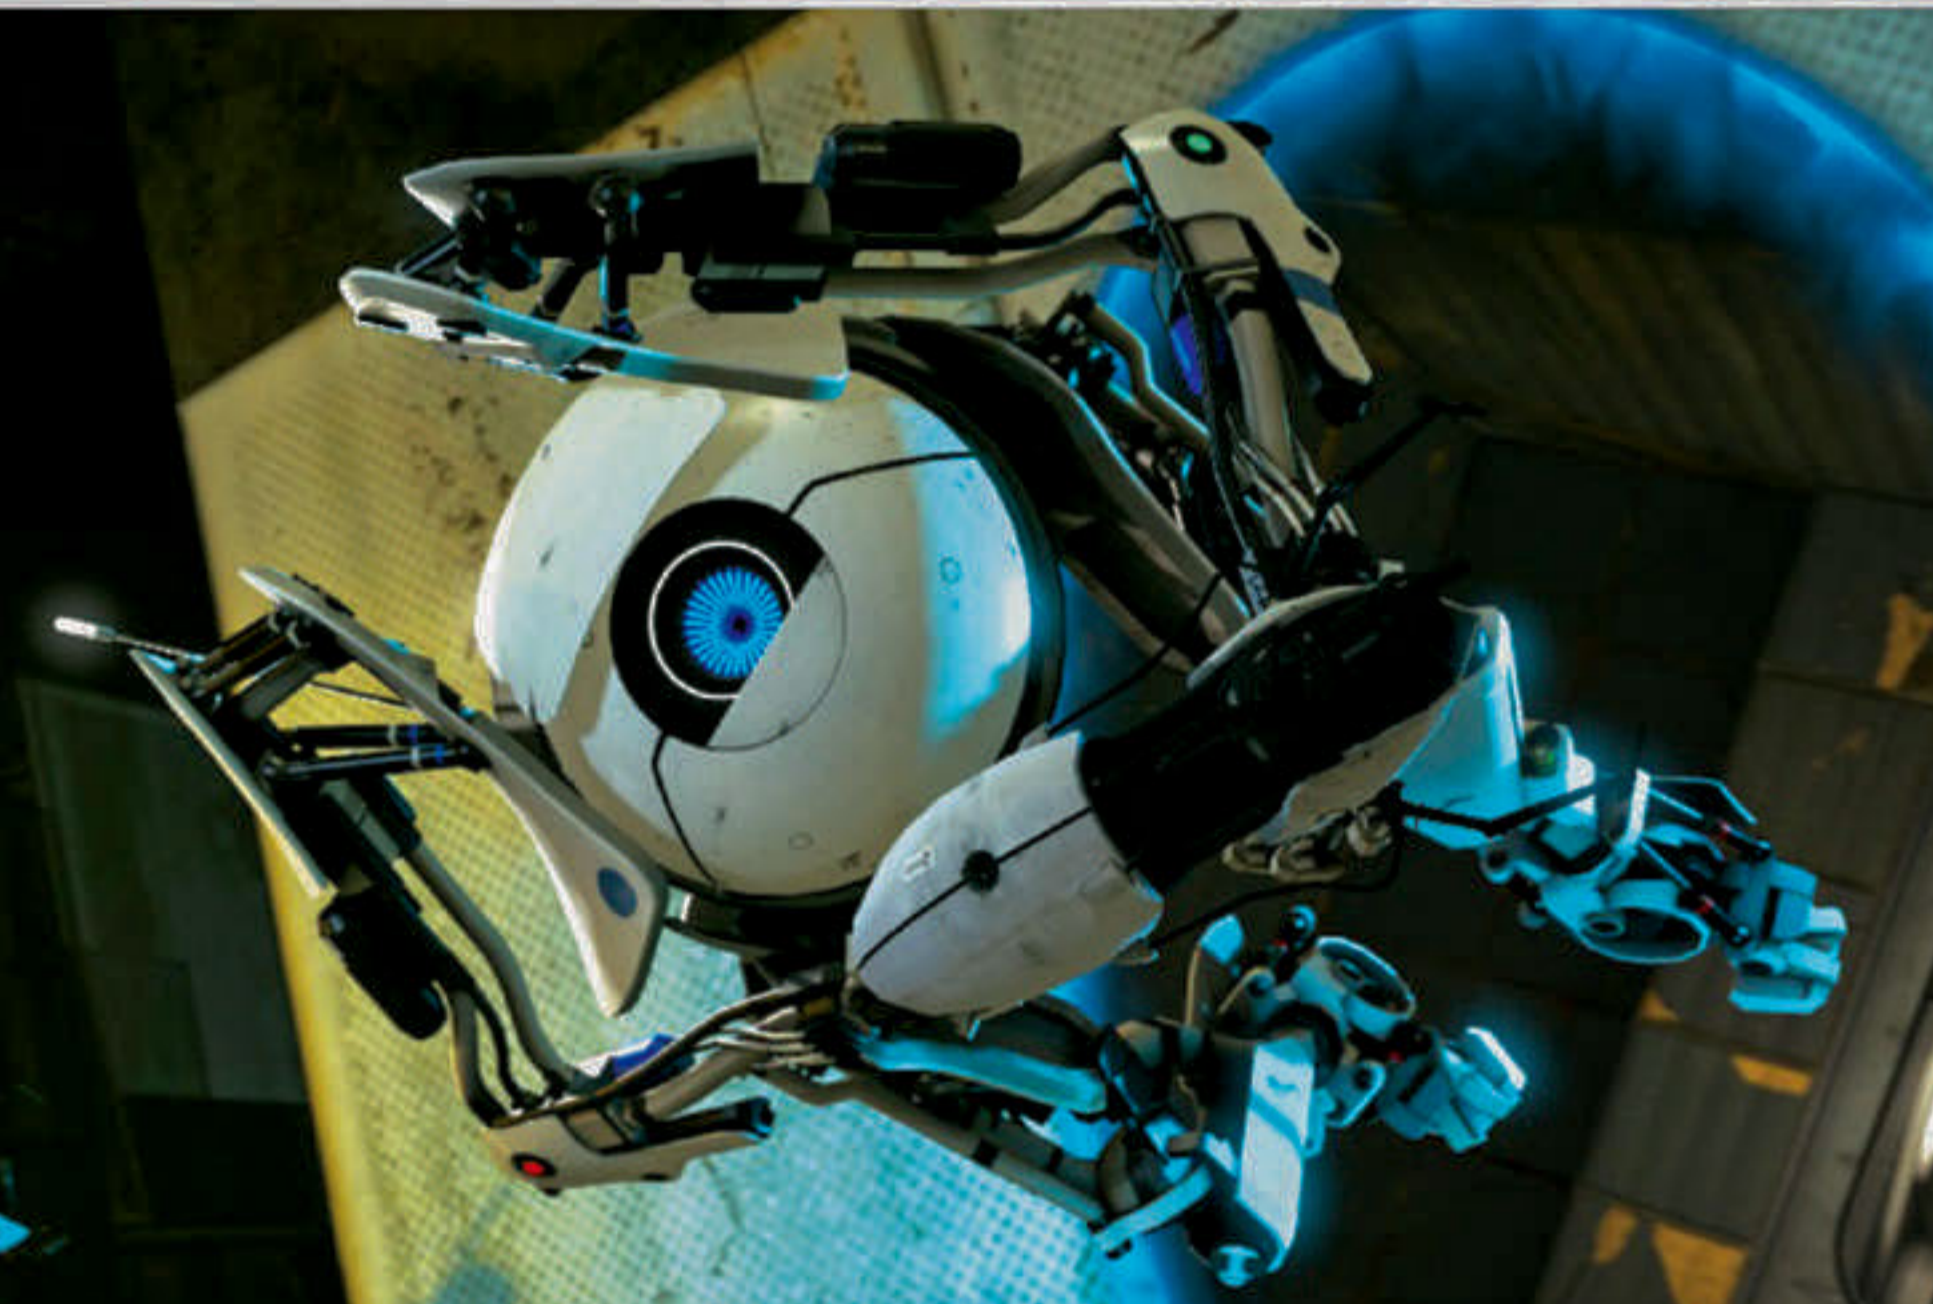

What is the message you would like to give to all the young people trying to enter your profession?
Don't rush after popularity; stay focused and be yourself

If you were given a chance to play a role in an old film, which role and which film would they be?
Oskar Schindler (Liam Neeson), From - Schindler's List.
