Thousands of Bangladeshis have been trafficked to South-East Asian Countries like Thailand, Malaysia and Indonesia. Hundreds of mass graves and detention camps of human trafficking victims in these countries have revealed the unprecedented brutality of this form of modern day slavery. This week, the Star Weekend looks at why thousands of Bangladeshis from different parts of the country leave their homeland, leaving behind their families and worldly possessions. Why did the government not take any steps to bring its people back to the country from the detention camps and the boats drifting in the high sea? To find out more, check out this week's Spotlight on pages 8 and 9.

MEN IN THE KITCHEN

THE UN-GLORY OF BANGLADESH CRICKET

This article is not about the glory of our cricket. It is about the glory Bangladesh has yet to achieve. It can be argued that to achieve that unfulfilled glory Bangladesh need to play as a unit – not just a match-playing team but a team that remains hungry for learning.
