OUR CORRESPONDENT, Gazipur

A couple yesterday allegedly committed suicide by hanging from a mango tree in Gazipur's Kaliganj upazila as the family of the male partner refused to accept the marriage.

According to police and locals, Laila Akhter, 30, married Alamgir Hossain, 24, about a month ago after divorcing her previous husband. They often quarrelled over the issue that Alamgir's family was not accepting Laila.

Kaliganj police recovered the bodies. An unnatural death case was filed.

This electric transformer enclosed by an iron cage has remained on the busy main street in the capital's Sadarghat for around 13 days putting pedestrians at high risk of electrocution any moment. Bangladesh Power Development Board has placed the equipment there on a temporary basis after the transformer installed on the nearby poles went out of order. The photo was taken recently.

Govt to enact new law to fight cyber crimes

Anisul Huq tells consultation on ICT Act 2006

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The government plans to enact a new law to prevent cyber crimes that take new dimensions frequently, Law Minister Anisul Huq said yesterday, terming the existing information and communication technology (ICT) act inadequate.

He made the announcement at a consultation with parliamentarians on "The ICT Act 2006: Implications for Freedom of Online Expression" in the capital, but he did not explain why a separate law is needed when the ICT act can be amended to suit the needs.

The new "Cyber Security Act" will ensure freedom of speech and expression as well as ensuring punishment for offenders, Anisul Huq told the discussion, organised by ARTICLE 19, an NGO defending freedom of expression, at a hotel in the capital.

He said the online propaganda of fundamentalists should be intensively monitored and dealt with prompt action; otherwise the country would be in danger.

Expressing condolence to the families of the three recently slain bloggers, the minister called them "martyrs for the freedom of speech".
