SC says those who enforced hartal, blockade responsible for violence during the agitation

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The Supreme Court yesterday said those who had enforced agitation programmes must shoulder the responsibility for violence and criminal activities that took place during the programmes.

It came up with the observation while hearing the petitions that challenge the High Court orders granting bail to BNP acting secretary general Mirza Fakhru Islam Alamgir in three cases filed for vandalism and arson.

Fakhru was named an accused in the cases on charges of provoking subversive activities.

NEWS ANALYSIS

Getting ready to become a middle income country

INAM AHMED

Becoming a lower middle income country is certainly something to cheer about. It makes us firmly believe that we will soon be elevated to the status of a middle income country. It makes us feel good. It gives us confidence while it makes others turn around and glance at us with respect. We become a target for investment.

But it also cautions us about some pitfalls. It also cautions us to know the challenges and get prepared to brace ourselves for the crosswinds. It also alerts us about the so-called middle-income trap that may embrace a country when it is elevated to middle income category.

Remittance in Bangladesh

Remittance over the years (in billion $)

Remittance hits record $15.31b

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

In the just concluded fiscal year, migrant workers sent home $15.31 billion in remittance, the highest in the country's history.

The remittance in 2014-15 also rose 7.6 percent from $14.23 billion in the previous fiscal year, according to Bangladesh Bank (BB) statistics released yesterday.

A huge increase in manpower export, backed by the central bank's proactive measures to facilitate the inflow through formal channel, is believed to have driven the remittance growth.

"The higher inflow of remittance is the outcome of our continuous effort of the last couple of years," BB Governor Atiur Rahman said in a statement.

The central bank along with the commercial banks has worked hard round the year aiming to increase the flow of inward remittance from across the world, he said.

Stable exchange rate of the Bangladeshi taka against the US dollar has also helped achieve the steady growth in remittance inflow, Atiur Rahman explained.

"Delivery channel of inward remittances to the beneficiary has improved significantly because of the bank-led effective mobile banking under the leadership of BB," the governor added.
