

RAMADAN CHRONICLES

I get salami from my mother and mother-in-law ...Ferdous

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

National Film Award winning actor Ferdous will be seen in a number of television programmes during Eid. Though he has not done any films recently, Ferdous-starrer film "Ek Cup Chaa" will see its television premiere on Channel i during Eid. The actor recently talked to Arts & Entertainment about his Eid plans, shopping, favourite iftar dishes and more. Excerpts:

How many programmes have you done for Eid?

Ferdous: I'll be seen in a talk-show on Banglavisión along with actress Purnima. Also the audience will see me dancing with Jaya Ahsan in "Anandomela" on BTV. Maasranga Television will air "Antorale" in which I feature.

What about your Eid shopping?

Ferdous: I've already done my Eid shopping from Kolkata and different markets in the capital. Recently, I went to Sylhet to inaugurate fashion house Deshi Dosh. I received many gifts from them. My daughters have done a lot of shopping for Eid too.

Where will you spend your Eid?

Ferdous: I'm travelling to America with my two daughters since they are on Eid vacation. We'll be there for two weeks, and if my daughters like USA we'll spend Eid there.

Do you have any travel plans within USA?

Ferdous: I'll travel to California, Disneyland and Los Angeles. My sister and her family live in USA, so I'll meet them and spend time together with my daughters.

Do you still get Eid salami?

Ferdous: Only my mother and mother-in-law give me Eid salami, otherwise I give others salami. Since I'll be spending my Eid in USA they have given me Eid salami in advance.

Do your daughters want to be like their father?

Ferdous: I don't think so.

My younger daughter doesn't understand showbiz and my elder daughter is divided between being a pilot like her mother or a designer. As for me, I want them to be good human beings.

What is on your usual iftar menu?

Ferdous: I love fruits and fresh juice. I prefer homemade food and try to avoid deep-fried items.

Colours FM begins "Click with Colours"

There is a treat ahead for Eid shoppers. ColoursFM 101.6, a bright FM radio station of the country, is running a campaign titled "Click with Colours". The campaign will continue for 20 days before Eid at 10 different shopping malls in Dhaka, says a press release.

During the month of Ramadan, the 10 shopping malls will have ColoursFM's Fun Booth for two days each. People will get to take fun pictures in these booths from 1:00pm to 9:00pm, then check-in to the "Click with Colours" Facebook page and upload the picture. Selected winners will bag attractive Eid gift hampers. The winners will also be able to request three songs from the Fun Booth in "Colours Ek Dui Tin" programme. More information can be found on the ColoursFM Facebook page.

Salman confirms Sonakshi for "Dabangg 3"

Sonakshi Sinha made her big Bollywood debut opposite Salman Khan in "Dabangg". The film went on to become a blockbuster and the magic was repeated in Dabangg 2, where Sonakshi was again cast opposite Salman.

"Dabangg" and "Dabangg 2" are considered to be two of the biggest hits of Sona's career. Now, it is being reported that she will also be a part of the film's third installment. According to a report in DNA, when asked if Sonakshi will be a part of "Dabangg 3", Salman simply said "yes". Talking about the film's Eid release, the report further quoted Salman as saying that they were currently writing the script and that they would need three to four days to sit down and pen it. Salman also mentioned that he did not know if it would be an Eid 2017 release. He states that if the film is ready by then and there is a gap of three-four months for Eid, Diwali or Christmas, they will adjust accordingly.
