Middle-income status in 3yrs

PM sees Bangladesh's continuous progress

UNB, Dhaka

Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina has affirmed that Bangladesh would become a middle-income country within the next three years.

Speaking at a function at the Gono Bhaban yesterday, she said, "We've already stepped into that stairs as Bangladesh has been declared a lower middle-income country."

"I can assure you it won't take 2021, before that time we would be able to establish ourselves as a middle-income country... Perhaps it would take 2-3 years... I've that conviction."

Earlier, she opened the Cox's Bazar International Airport construction project through videoconferencing from her official residence.

Addressing the function, the PM said, "Bangladesh doesn't want to stay at the lower ladder... it wants to climb to the peak and we'll do whatever necessary for that."

She mentioned that the government has to overcome so many obstacles while accomplishing any task.

Wild monkeys come out of forest

FOOD SHORTAGE

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Mymensingh

Villages in Phulbaria upazila of Mymensingh are finding themselves rather reluctant hosts to monkeys from the nearby Santoshpur Forest.

Around 300 wild monkeys living in the forest area often come out of the forest to visit villages in search of food as the food available in the forest is not adequate for them, locals say.

Rab arrests 12 alleged members of banned militant outfit Huji; claims Trishal-style ambush was being planned

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Harkat-ul-Jihad-al-Islami, Bangladesh (Huji-B) leaders were preparing to build their organisational capability to join al-Qaeda in Indian Subcontinent (AQIS). They wanted to go on a bombing spree after Eid to let everyone know that they exist.

Rapid Action Battalion made the claim after arresting 12 alleged Huji leaders and activists.

Arrestee Maulana Mainul Islam Mahim's job was to coordinate with AQIS and organise the Huji leaders and activists to join al-Qaeda. Arrestee Mufti Zafar Amin Salman was acting as an adviser for the whole operation, Rab officials said.

Rab also said the arrestees were trying to label themselves as "Dawate Tabliq" and "313 Badr Sainik". Their plan was to join AQIS after the two organisations had spread across Bangladesh.

"They [arrested militants] had a plan to carry out bomb attacks across the country after Eid to send a message to the inactive members of militant outfits about their existence," said Mufti Mahmud Khan, Rab's Legal and Media wing director, at a press briefing at its headquarters in the capital yesterday.

He said their plan was to get as much media coverage as possible through the bomb attacks and recruit more operatives.

Rab officials said the militants had so far recruited 50 operatives and of them, 20 were supposed to have training at a madrasa in Bogra.

Nearly 150 people killed in Nigeria

AFP, Maiduguri

Suspected Boko Haram militants killed nearly 150 people in northeastern Nigerian villages, mowing down men and children praying in mosques. They also shot women preparing food at home, witnesses said yesterday.

Dozens of militants stormed three remote villages in the flashpoint Borno state on Wednesday evening, slaughtering residents and setting houses ablaze in the bloodiest day of attacks by the extremist group since President Muhammadu Buhari came to power in May.

Gunmen killed at least 97 people in Kukawa, the worst-affected village, a local who gave his name as Kolo and who said he had counted the bodies told AFP.

"They wiped out the immediate family of my uncle... They killed his children, about five of them, and set his entire house ablaze," Kolo said.

A fisherman who witnessed the attack corroborated the death toll.

Another witness in Kukawa, Babami Alhaji Kolo, who fled to the state capital Maiduguri, said more than 50 militants had stormed the village.

"The terrorists first descended on Muslim worshippers in various mosques who were observing the Maghrib prayer shortly after breaking their fast," he said.

"They...opened fire on the worshippers who were mostly
