Shah Nursery, the largest and the most resourceful nursery of Jhenidah by the side of the Naboganga river attracts the nursery owners, agriculture firms and tree lovers of Bangladesh. Md. Dr. Shaiful Islam, son of Adv. Golam Mozid of Sharabaria village under sadar upazila established this nursery in 2007 at the cost of Tk 2.15 lakh on 4.57 decimals of land. At present he is the president of Bangladesh Nursery Samity. He visited around 40 countries in his pursuit to collect rare species of trees. Shah Nursery is playing a vital role in producing quality plants from mother trees and supplying them to many parts of Bangladesh.

Dr. Shaiful Islam has nurtured his childhood love and hobby for trees and has eventually created this massive nursery on nearly 5 acres of land at Mothurapur village of Kannadah union in Harinakundu upazila. He brought mother trees from BARI, Bangladesh Agriculture University Mymensingh (BAU) and some horticulture centres and tested the fruits of the mother trees in his own nursery. Then he began to distribute nurseries in Bangladesh over the years. There are around 50 species of mother fruit trees, 50 species of fruit plants, 100 species of flower bearing plants, 24 species of woody plants and about 100 species of medicinal plants in the nursery now," said Shariful Islam, Manager of Shah Nursery. Five workers take care of the nursery, of them, one is the manager, one caretaker, one waterman and two night guards.

Dr. Rahim, a teacher of BAU, visits the nursery every three months and supervises the activities there. Plants of various species from the Shah Nursery are sold every year around the country; many government officials also take plants from the nursery, sources said.

Shaiful, who completed his PhD in Horticulture Nursery Management from USA is also the President of National Nursery Society (NNS) comprising of 15,000 owners of nurseries across the country. He is also a member of the standing committee of National Technology Project (NATP) of the World Bank in Bangladesh. Mr. Islam said they had supplied quality plants to nearly 150 nurseries in Bangladesh over the years. The Swiss government is providing the NNS with funds, and they are expecting to get financial assistance from the Netherlands government very soon as well. Shaiful mentioned that there is no separate ministry of horticulture, or a university of horticulture in our country while in India, there is a separate ministry for horticulture. "In other countries, lemon orchards are made on hills, and I wish to buy lands on the hills and make a big lemon garden there," he said. Shaiful has a plan to establish a private agriculture university near his nursery in the future.

An elderly man, Siraj Uddin Mondol of Sharabaria village said that Dr. Shaiful Islam is concerned about the betterment of the local people. Hundreds of traders throng at the nursery during the rainy season to collect fruit saplings. The nursery is famous and enriched in a variety of saplings. The sales of the nursery was about 14 lakh taka in 2014. The nursery often distributes plants to the needy and underprivileged people every year for free.

Oracle Students' Library in Kurigram

ABDUL WAHED, Kurigram

The Oracle Students' Library in Araji Palashbari village of Halokhana union under Sadarupazila of Kurigram has been making a difference in the lives of students. Students involved with the library are conducting various social activities besides their studies, such as collecting books for the library, teaching dropout students, providing coaching for local students, developing computer skills, tree plantation and creating a platform for resisting early marriage in the community.

Eight students led by Mojahedul Islam, who is now a Senior Officer of Sonali Bank Ltd, set up the library called 'Oracle Students' Library' with some books in Mojahedul's house in 2000 at Araji Palashbari village. In the beginning, about ten students who had passed their SSC started to frequent the library. They conducted reading sessions and free coaching for school students at the library. Student Jahangir Alom, who is now a Warrant Officer of Bangladesh Army, played the main role of organising local students.

As the number of students of the library increased, the people behind the library constructed a two-storyed tin-shed house beside Tapurchar Government Primary School at Araji Palashbari village in October 2008. To create a pleasant learning atmosphere, they have made a garden around the library.

There are over 400 books of various types including study books, story books, books on computers, books on general knowledge, books on freedom fighters and biography of noble men at the library. The books were collected from ex-students and local people. The ex-students have been providing four newspapers including the Daily Prothom Alo and the Daily Ittefaq for over six years. Now, over 120 students, including 55 girls, visit the library regularly. The library is open from 6 am to 8 pm everyday and about 60 to 80 students study there every day. There are classes for local students in two shifts, first from 6 am to 8 am and then from 4 pm to 5:30 pm every day. Ten senior students, including four girls, teach the classes without any financial gain.

To beautify Halokhana union, the students planted over 2,000 plants of Krisnachura tree in all wards of Halokhana union since 2008, but only about 450 of the ones planted are alive. Shahida Akhtar, a reader of the library and BA (honours) student of Kurigram Government College, said, "We are facing a shortage of chairs, tables, book-shelves, books and accommodation for the library now that we have so many readers. We (girl students) have no scope of studying in the government public library of Kurigram town. At least 15 girl students of Araji Palashbari, Tapurchar, Subharkuthi and Char Subharkuthi villages of the union study in the library. We are in need of help with books and furniture for the library."

"A non-resident Bangladeshi Anwarul Islam Bakshi who lives in Australia donated two computer sets to the library in October 2013 when he visited. The students take training on basic computer skills at the Halokhana Union Digital Centre accordingly and learn in groups between 4:00 pm to 6:00 pm every day," said Jahangir Alom, General Secretary of the library.

"Halokhana union is a poor area in Kurigram district. We have been able to conduct the library's activities because we are fortunate enough to receive volunteers who offer their services for free for the betterment of the community. Our main aim is to establish Halokhana as an ideal and educated union. We hope many others are inspired by our model and establish libraries like Oracle Students' Library in other rural areas of the country," said Saiful Islam, President of the library. "We need more books and furniture, but we do not receive money directly from donors for library activities. We need agriculture-based books and journals – we get a lot of requests from people who come to read newspapers and books every day," said Saiful.

Bumper pineapple harvest in Srimangal

MINTU DESHWARA, Moulvibazar

Indigenous farmers have achieved bumper production of pineapple at 30 villages in Srimangal upazila of the district this season.
