Gasquet stuns Wawrinka

Meets Djokovic in semis as Federer, Murray clash

AFP, London

 Richard Gasquet stunned fourth seeded French Open winner Stan Wawrinka 6-4, 4-6, 3-6, 6-4, 11-9 to set up a Wimbledon semifinal clash against defending champion Novak Djokovic. It will be 21st seed Gasquet's second appearance in the semi-finals, eight years after his first.

Meanwhile, Roger Federer and Andy Murray set-up another mouthwatering clash for a spot in the championship match.

Top seed and world number one Djokovic, also the champion in 2011, made the semifinals for a sixth successive year and seventh time in total by demolishing ninth seed and US Open winner Marin Cilic 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Second seeded Federer, the seven-time champion, reached his 10th Wimbledon semifinal with a 6-3, 7-5, 6-2 win over French 12th seed Gilles Simon.

Murray, the third seed, cruised into his sixth All England Club semifinal with an equally comfortable 6-4, 7-5, 6-4 win against unseeded Canadian Vasek Pospisil.

Djokovic, an eight-time Grand Slam champion, hit 27 winners and committed just 12 unforced errors without allowing a break point to Cilic.

"It was a very solid performance after a tough five-set match against Kevin (Anderson) in the fourth round," Djokovic said.

The top players are expected to reach the final stages of these competitions, but still I'm happy to make my way through. Of course I try not to take it for granted."

There were two other significant landmarks for Djokovic on Wednesday -- his 650th tour-level match win and his 50th Wimbledon victory.

Federer, 33, who is bidding to become the oldest Wimbledon champion in the Open Era, will be playing in his 37th Grand Slam semi-final.

He shrugged off two rain delays as well as being broken for the first time at the tournament to complete victory over Simon in just 94 minutes.

Federer fired 11 aces and 36 winners as he secured a sixth win in eight meetings with Simon, who was attempting to reach the last-four of a major for the first time.

Federer holds a narrow 12-11 lead over Murray and has won their last three clashes.

He defeated the British third seed in the 2012 Wimbledon final -- their only meeting at the tournament -- before Murray gained revenge just weeks later in the Olympic Games final.

"We both like to look back on that summer of 2012. If we knew I would win Wimbledon and him Olympics, I think we both would have taken it. It was a great summer for us," said the 17-time major winner.

The only blip for Federer on Wednesday was dropping serve for the first time at the tournament in the 10th game of the second set which ended a run of 116th consecutive service holds since the first round in Halle last month.

C'Ron meets his clone

AFP, Tokyo

Real Madrid superstar Cristiano Ronaldo came face to face with a scantily clad life-size double on Wednesday when Japanese scientists unveiled a "cyberclone" of the Portuguese pin-up.

The 30-year-old, who was in Tokyo to promote an electric muscle stimulator for sculpting a washboard stomach, gave the thumbs-up to the doppelganger with moving facial features, created after a 3D scan of his body using 110 micro cameras.

"It's perfect," smiled Ronaldo as he checked out the clone with fluttering eyelids and roving eyes. "I love it."

The silicon dummy, made with the help of a Hollywood studio, was naked but for a black pair of Ronaldo's own brand of underwear and the pulsing "Six-Pad" device attached to its torso.

"I have to say he looks just like me," added Ronaldo. "I would be a liar if I said it doesn't."

Ronaldo has legions of fans who swoon over his chiselled looks and muscular physique, which he regularly shows off by removing his shirt to celebrate goals.

Russel bring down high-flying MSC

SPORTS REPORTER

Sheikh Russel KC snapped Mohammedan Sporting Club's eight-match unbeaten run in the Manavar Bangladesh Premier League with a 2-1 win at the Bangabandhu National Stadium yesterday.

The former champions held off the challenge of Jashimuddin Joshi's charges and joined them in second position on 26 points after their second successive victory. The win kept Sheikh Russel firmly in the title-race as they stay only four points behind league leaders Sheikh Jamal DC, having played a game less.

Mohammedan, who are on 26 points too, have played 13 matches. Mithun Chowdhury and Hemanta Vincent Biswas struck once each apiece for Maruful Haque's charges before Ismail Bangoura scored a consolation goal for the Black and Whites in the dying moments.

Yesterday's win means Sheikh Russel have overcome one of the big hurdles following their 3-1 win over Brothers Union in the previous match. A youthful Mohammedan, on the other hand, had to endure their third defeat of the second goal in the 83rd minute.

Left-back Shohel Rana whipped in a well-judged cross from and Hemenat rose high to head the cross home. Mohammedan pulled one goal back in the 85th minute through Jewel but the goal was ruled out for off-side before Bangoura converted a penalty kick in the stoppage time after Wali Faisal handled the ball inside the danger zone.

Ibrahim danced past three defenders and rounded the goalkeeper, but incredibly floated over the open net in the 79th minute. And they had to pay dearly as Sheikh Russel soon took the game away with the second goal in the 83rd minute.
