Yeraly Tugzhanov, deputy chairman of the Assembly of Peoples of Kazakhstan (APK) and head of the secretariat of the Assembly of the Nation of Kazakhstan, talked about the model implemented by the country's President Nursultan Nazarbayev to enhance social cohesion.

In Kazakhstan, assembly members are elected from representatives of more than 100 ethnicities, and nine deputies of the assembly are designated to look after equality between the ethnicities, which include Kazakhs, Russians, Uzbeks, Ukrainians, Uighurs, Tatars, Koreans and Germans, to name a few.

"We don't treat any of Kazakhstan's citizens as majority or minority. Everyone belongs to Kazakhstan and we don't discriminate against anyone because of their ethnicity," he said.

At the meeting at the National Academic Library of Astana, Badsha urged them to open an embassy of Kazakhstan in Bangladesh to enhance bilateral tourism and cultural exchange.

He also elaborated on the rights of the religious minorities, tribal and indigenous people as stated in the Bangladeshi constitution and the workings of the parliamentary caucus on indigenous communities.

At another meeting at the parliament house of Kazakhstan, Sayapova Zuhra Aleutdinova, one of the nine deputies, said that though there were no reserved seats for women in the country's parliament, women representatives were naturally elected from all ethnic communities.

The meeting was followed by the participants' visit to the lower house of parliament, "Mazhilis".

In the plenary session of the forum about the stability and prosperity of CICA, Vice Chancellor of ASA University in Bangladesh Dr Dalem Chandra Barman said, "The culture of peace doesn't believe in any kind of exclusion."

"Peace cannot be established in society if there is no political, economic and cultural equality," he said.

The conference ended with a firm commitment to strengthen inter-cultural cooperation of solidarity, friendship and mutual trust of the peoples of CICA countries and included urgent issues about cooperation in Asia towards promoting peace, security and stability.

The forum also emphasised multilateral cooperation in inter-ethnic relations through meetings, consultations, exchange of successful practices of ethnic policies in CICA countries, strengthening scientific and expertise support activities in the framework of CICA, ensuring strong participation of civil society institutions, particularly ethnic and cultural associations and youth organisations.

The participants congratulated the people of Kazakhstan and its president on "Capital City Day" in Astana on July 6 and the 20th anniversary of the Assembly of the Nation of Kazakhstan.

The participants visited ethno-memorial complex "Atameken", the largest mosque in Kazakhstan and Central Asia "Hazrat Sultan", and the national museum of Kazakhstan. They were entertained with traditional food and cultural show.

Yeraly Tugzhanov, deputy chairman of the APK, presented Badsha with "Shanyruk", a symbol of freedom and peace and also the traditional portable home of pastoral nomadic peoples of Kazakhstan, and Dalem Barman with "Kobyzy", an ancient musical string instrument, containing two strings made of horsehair.

Govt job quotas sought for qualified Harijans

Leaders also seek remedy to residence crisis at Bangladesh Harijan Oikya Parishad's 17th founding anniversary reception

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Harijan leaders yesterday asked the government to keep a quota for the community's educated people in public sector jobs and to bring an end to the hardships the community faces regarding their residences.

"A person from our community needs to endure many struggles to get a degree. After that if he fails to get a job, it will surely inflict frustration. Others will not be encouraged to get education," said Nirmal Chandra Das.

The secretary general of Bangladesh Harijan Oikya Parishad was talking to journalists after a reception, "Bangladesh Harijan Oikya Parishad in the Chronicles of Human Rights Movement", organised by the parishad in the capital's Central Public Library celebrating its 17th founding anniversary.

Informing that the community has been working as sweepers and cleaners for generations, Nirmal thanked the government for keeping an 80 percent quota for the community in such jobs.

He, however, claimed that without fulfilling the quota, people outside the community were being provided jobs.

Nirmal said, "Residence is one of our big problems. We are living in dilapidated buildings at different colonies. At any time, a massive collapse can occur and the casualties will be far more than the Rana Plaza collapse."

Yesterday, the parishad awarded 165 Harijans, 41 posthumously, for establishing human rights and dignity since the parishad started its journey in 1998. A cultural programme was also held.
