

Bangladesh-China defence relations reach 'unprecedented heights'

DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT

Chinese Defence Attaché' in Bangladesh Senior Colonel Zhang Wei yesterday said Bangladesh-China defence relationship has reached "unprecedented heights" in last few years.

Addressing a reception on the Chinese embassy premises marking the 88th founding anniversary of the Chinese People's Liberation Army, Zhang Wei mentioned that Bangladesh so far is the only country to receive Chinese medical ship twice.

Besides being a reliable and affordable source of weapons and equipment for Bangladesh Armed Forces, China is also providing military technology and training, read a Chinese embassy press release yesterday.

During Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina's visit to China, the two sides agreed to forge relationship which includes training programmes, joint exercises, defence procurement, security cooperation such as counter terrorism, anti-piracy, peacekeeping cooperation and disaster management.

we relaxed enforcement as political parties were not familiar with the culture. But it should not go on for long," he viewed.

However, election commissioner Shah Nawaz thinks if the EC wants to strictly enforce the legal provision, it might cause difficulties.

If the major parties cannot submit reports in time, it will create further problems, he told The Daily Star. "So I don't see anything wrong in extending the deadline."

If a party fails to submit its financial report for three consecutive years, it will lose its registration with the EC, according to the rules.

About EC's negligence to scrutinise the reports, Sakawat Hussain said the statements were useless, if not examined.

"I think these financial statements of political parties should be made public for transparency."

Even some senior field level officials of the EC recently proposed to develop an effective mechanism for scrutinising the authenticity of these statements.

In response to this, EC Secretary Sirazul Islam said, "As the reports are audited by a registered chartered accountant firm, there is no need for further scrutiny."

HEPATITIS B, C VIRUS INFECTION

Most patients find out after damage is done

Liver specialists tell discussion

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

About 60-70 percent of the people infected with the deadly Hepatitis B and C viruses globally are not aware that they are having the disease, liver specialists told a discussion yesterday.

The ignorance results in the spread of the highly contagious germs, they added, citing the World Health Organization data.

The discussion was organised by the National Liver Foundation of Bangladesh at The Daily Star Centre in the capital on the occasion of World Hepatitis Day.

Claiming 4,000 lives each day, Hepatitis B Virus (HBV) is among the 10 leading causes of death globally, said Prof Muhammad Ali, the foundation's secretary general.

"According to studies, 4-7 percent of the country's [Bangladesh's] population is infected with HBV and 1-3 percent with HCV," he said.

In most cases, the sufferers find out when their livers are severely damaged, he said.

He said awareness could prevent the infected persons from spreading the viruses.

The foundation's president, Prof Harunur Rashid, said HBV vaccines should be given to the newborn within 24 hours of birth, and it was the standard rule.

But the Expanded Programme on Immunisation (EPI) currently provides the vaccine to babies aged six weeks, risking infection and serious consequences.

President of Diabetic Association of Bangladesh Prof AK Azad Khan said vaccination and regular diagnostics could contain the disease.

Noted gynaecologist Prof TA Chowdhury said screening of viral hepatitis was required for all pregnant women.

that around 50.39 percent voters are male and 49.61 percent are female.

In a statement, the commission claimed it is always cautious when preparing an authentic and flawless electoral roll.

The statement came a couple of days after Shushashoner Jannoy Nagorik, a civil society organisation, questioned why there are less female voters than male voters in the updated voter list, while in 2008 female voters far surpassed male voters.

Afterwards, BNP on Monday expressed concern whether the EC was behind the inversion of the ratio of male to female voters.

Talking to The Daily Star, EC Secretary Sirazul Islam said in many cases, they have noticed that females are less interested in being on the voter list.

Besides, underprivileged females do not want to bother collecting necessary documents like birth certificates, he added.
