Khaleda for UN probe into disappearances

BNP Chairperson Khaleda Zia yesterday called upon the United Nations to investigate what happened to those who were "made to disappear between 2009 and 2015" in Bangladesh. "The family members of the victims should at least know whether their near and dear ones are alive or not," Khaleda said at an impromptu programme at her Gulshan office in the evening to mark the International Day of the Victims of Enforced Disappearances. Families of 26 victims of enforced disappearances were present there. In her brief speech,

VICTIMS OF ENFORCED DISAPPEARANCE Families couldn't hold meeting

They wanted to tell people about the nightmare they had been through since their loved ones were allegedly abducted by law enforcement agencies. They wanted to share what it meant to live with the whereabouts of their brothers, sons or husbands remaining unknown. They thought the International Day of the Victims of Enforced Disappearances yesterday was a befitting occasion to organise a solidarity meeting at the Jatiya Press Club, hoping to seek the government's help to know the whereabouts of their family members. But they could not hold the meeting as the Jatiya Press Club, all of a sudden, cancelled the booking of the programme venue only 16 hours beforehand. The meeting was scheduled to begin at 9:30am yesterday. "As family members of the victims, we were victimised further," said Sanjida Islam, sister of Sajedul Islam Suman, who was allegedly picked up by members of Rapid Action Battalion from Bashundhara Residential Area in December 2013 along with six other persons. Family members of 20 victims wanted to observe the
