

Database of all Ctg rivers in offing

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

The National River Conservation Commission (NRCC) will create a database of all rivers in Chittagong district determining the alignments and prospects, as well as the challenges being faced by those.

Chairman of the commission Md Atharul Islam made the announcement at the first meeting of Chittagong District River Conservation Committee held at the deputy commissioner (DC) Office yesterday.

The commission also decided to carry out drives to recover land of the rivers which has gone under illegal occupation, said the chairman, adding that for this purpose a report on the Karnaphuli river's alignment had already been submitted to the High Court.

DC Mejbah Uddin said 2,500 illegal structures have been set up grabbing the banks of the river Karnaphuli, and also the canals linked with the rivers in the district are being grabbed.

To save biodiversity of the Halda river, the Department of Environment (DoE) and Water Development Board with the help of the district administration would identify the sources of pollution, the meeting decided.

'FUNDING MILITANCY' Three held lawyers denied bail

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

A Chittagong court yesterday rejected the bail prayers of three lawyers arrested for their alleged involvement in financing militant outfit Shaheed Hamja Brigade.

They transferred Tk 1.08 crore to the group's account, claimed Rapid Action Battalion (Rab).

A Chittagong district sessions judge denied them bail, said Public Prosecutor Abul Hashem. He said the prosecution gave important evidence on transfer of the money, and the court did not grant them bail because of the likelihood that they would flee.

Defence lawyer Abdus Sattar, however, said one suspect Farjana was ill but the court did not consider that. He alleged that the judiciary was not working independently.

Rab arrested Supreme Court lawyers Shakila Farjana and Hasanuzzaman Liton, and Dhaka Judge's Court lawyer Mahfuz Chowdhury Bapan in the capital on August 10. Information from suspected Hamja Brigade operatives led to their detention, claimed Rab. The three lawyers are shown arrested in two cases.

They are to have lunch at the state guesthouse Padma, to be hosted by Mahmood Ali. In the afternoon, they will call on Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina at 4:00pm where they will discuss about the climate conference.

After inaugurating the new embassy and meeting the French and German communities, they will hold a press conference and depart at 9:45pm.

Franco-German Embassy

Former French ambassador to Bangladesh Michel Trinquier and former German ambassador Albrecht Conze laid the foundation stone for the new embassy building on January, 2013 marking the celebration of 50th anniversary of the Elysée Treaty.

The then French president, Charles de Gaulle, and German chancellor, Konrad Adenauer, signed a treaty on January 22, 1963 in Paris to establish a strong partnership. Diplomatic sources at the two embassies said they were expecting to relocate to the new building mid next year.

Marginalised groups, NGOs should merge rights efforts

Seminar told

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

A national platform should be created with representatives from all marginalised communities and NGOs working for the former's land, health and education rights so that it can give voice to these ethnically and geographically diverse groups, a seminar was told yesterday.

Marginalised communities of the country are not visible in policy and statistics, said former caretaker government adviser Hossain Zillur Rahman.

He said these groups, accustomed to customary land ownership, were small, and occupations of many such as the river gypsies were disappearing.

The economist said the problems of each community would not receive much attention individually but when brought under a platform, each of their voice would be stronger.

The seminar and information fair on "Land Deprivation of the Tea Communities and Adivasis of the Plains" was organised by the Society for Environment and Human Development (SEHD), at Catholic Bishop's Conference of Bangladesh (CBCB) at the capital's Farmgate.

In the introductory speech, SEHD Director Philip Gain shed light on the plights of tea plantation workers, indigenous communities of Madhupur Forest, land grabbing of indigenous communities in the country's north, and eviction of seven Mahle families in Rajshahi.

He said an estimated five lakh tea workers were brought by the British to Bangladesh 150 years ago from different parts of India to work in the plantations.

"Almost 99.9 percent of these people don't have land, and they can never own land because of the practice inside the gardens," he said.

The country has 160 tea estates in 1.13 lakh hectares of land, all owned by the government and leased out to garden
