Diversity Photo Festival at KUET

A dead body isn't a person anymore, it's evidence. A photograph is evidence but alive – vibrant and emanating energy. KUET Photographic Society is an organisation that has been active for the last six years, and has produced talented, dynamic and sensible photographers with extraordinary vision. KUET Photographic Society and Banglalink recently organised the intra-university photography festival titled, 'Diversity': five billion people on this planet – five billion stories, each full of emotions and drama. Perhaps life itself is the most diverse phenomenon.
