

LS PICK

The all-important fashion weeks in New York and Paris have successfully ended, leaving us with trends and ideas hot off the runway in its wake. The usual smokey eye has come to expect for fall has been chucked aside in favour of wondrous blue eye makeup that is reminiscent of the glorious azure oceans and midnight sky.

Dark berry shades that are almost synonymous with autumn have been replaced with moody, chic reds, the eternal favourite of Parisians. It is a wonderful change of pace, as certain dark shades generally associated with fall are not flattering on all skin colours, not to mention many women shy away from trying a colour that is a total departure from their preferred colour spectrum.
