

Mourinho's Meltdown

You might be absolutely nowhere in life right now. You might be in a place where it resembles the chaotic seclusion of an event horizon. No getting out and no getting in. There is, however, one shining ray of hope for you. It's Jose Mourinho.

Imagine you're one of the best managers on the planet and gaining momentum with your unstoppable multi-billion dollar team of football players. Everything is going perfectly and you're well on your way towards being the very best that no one ever was. After a break lasting two months, you're rested and ready to go at the world. Everything crashes. Your players hate you. Your fans hate you. And your possibly homicidal boss is about to lose his patience. This isn't an event horizon. This is a sun going supernova.

At least you're not Mourinho. Cheer up, old boy.

– Rumman R Kalam, Sub-editor, SHOUT

THIS WEEK'S HORRORSCOPE

ARIES

You don't know my life. I've been to dark places. The lights in my attic don't work.

TAURUS

Men wear pants in every country except Scotland. What've they got to hide? Or show?

GEMINI

Poke a hole here and look through it to find the love of your life... your AFTER-life!

CANCER

Girls. They want carrot juice and but then you give them apple juice. What.

LEO

Buy a jacket with secret pockets. Remove said pockets and attach them to your pants.

VIRGO

Smirk at your pillow before fluffing it. Perhaps it will smirk back at you through its creases.

LIBRA

I fell in love with a Bengali man I met in Venice. But then he caught a pigeon and ate it.

SCORPIO

The chances of encountering Bane is very high this week. For you. Buy a backbrace. For you.

SAGITTARIUS

When the gates to heaven open for you, tip the door-man whichever way he leans.

CAPRICORN

Dhaka Fiddles cultivates the hunger of starving pot-bellied men to make The Best Sauce.

AQUARIUS

Don't drink milk made back in the year 2005. That was a bad year for milk.

PISCES

Productivity will seep back into the lazy cracks of my life. My life. Not yours. Mine.

APP REVIEW

GOOGLE KEEP

FATIUL HUQ SUJOY

Google Keep is a quick note taking app that promises easy accessibility, virtual backup and fast synchronisation throughout your personal devices, sharing with peers and simplicity.

Keep is fast and smooth enough to work with. It's convenient when you need to quickly jot down sudden thoughts or instructions rather than tap and go through different categories and functions to see which one fits the best. It's also simple enough for beginners because there aren't apparent needless jargons that try to enhance experience. The simple user interface makes it easy to shuffle through previous notes. Additionally, Keep provides a widget that greatly quickens access.

The notes themselves have obvious features like labels, photos, reminders and colours. The colour feature works not to make interface playful (which it does anyway), but works as tags, like distinguishing from personal to professional notes. The search function is universal, meaning your search keywords aren't limited to the titles but include the content.

One feature in which Keep triumphs over its competition is its voice notes. It records your speech, accurately converts it to text and saves the recording as well.

You can also share notes, giving viewing and editing access to friends and family making it easier for group assignments or party planning.

Keep's greatest feature is its backup system. Keep gives the option to save a note to Docs on your Google Drive. Saving quick notes from your desktop for your phone when it is out of charge or out of reach makes the app comfy and convenient to a whole new level.

MIXTAPE

Under a Minute

Sufjan Stevens
Riffs and Variations

Coldplay
Parachutes

Pure Reason
Revolution
Keep Me Sane/Insane

Buckethead
Electric Bell Blanket

Old Man Gloom
Skullstorm

Electric Wizard
The Hills Have Eyes

Darren Korb
Blank Canvas