now have a glimpse at what may be the character's haircut. The photo he shared on Instagram does look suspiciously like Peter Parker in the Ultimate Spider-Man series. It's worth noting, that in addition to the haircut, Holland has spent time preparing physically for the role. In the image, he shows off a lot of added muscle tone, and a gymnast's

The film is based on Dennis Lehane's acclaimed crime novel of the same name and also stars Zoe Saldana, Sienna Miller, Elle Fanning and Chris Cooper. Directed by Affleck, the movie is slated to release in 2017.

Every film hit on social media, but reality is different ARJUN KAPOOR

Actor Arjun Kapoor says success of a film is ultimately decided by the audience watching it in theatres, irrespective of the buzz on social media. "No number of likes and comments relate to the success or failure or choice of films. For a film to succeed, people have to come to the theatres to watch it," Arjun said. The "2 States" actor was joined by gen-next stars Alia Bhatt, Parineeti Chopra, Aditya Roy Kapur, Ayushmann Khurrana and Kriti Sanon, who spoke about how their films affect brand endorsements, social media pressure, success and failures. "Shudh Desi Romance" actress Parineeti said the young stars today have not yet developed a "loyal" fan following and are as good as their last film. "Shaandaar" star Alia said thinking too much about the "end result" may stop an actor to take risks.
