

SONAKSHI SINHA

will surprise with action in
'Force 2': Abhinay Deo

Director Abhinay Deo believes his "Force 2" leading lady Sonakshi Sinha will surprise everyone with her action in the film. "In this film you will see the difference. Here Sonakshi is shoulder to shoulder with John Abraham. People would be surprised looking at her. We have started shooting the action part with her. Almost 50 percent of the action is done," Abhinay expressed. Besides having spectacular action, the film will see "Mardaani" famed actor Tahir Raj Bhasin replacing Vidyut Jammwal, who played the negative role in "Force". Abhinay is directing a film after a gap of four years and he believes in taking time and giving his best.

Playing negative character is refreshing:

SUMET VYAS

"Permanent Roommates" actor Sumet Vyas says after a string of good guy roles, playing a negative character in upcoming film "Kajarya," was a much needed change. The movie, directed by Delhi-based filmmaker Madhureeta Anand, explores the issue of female foeticide and is scheduled to release on December 4. The actor became a known face with The Viral Fever's "Permanent Roommates", a five-part web series with 40-minute episodes.

However, Sumet did not expect the show to be so successful when he came on board. The actor-writer is now geared up for its second season which begins shooting in December and is likely to air by January end. Sumet, who wrote Yashraj's web-series "Band Baja Baarat", will also be seen in "Parched", directed by Leena Yadav and co-produced by Ajay Devgan.

ANUPAM KHER

humbled by LK Advani's 'generosity'

Overwhelmed by BJP veteran L.K. Advani's effusive praise for his play "Mera Woh Matlab Nahi Tha", veteran actor Anupam Kher thanked the senior BJP leader for his "generosity" to come and witness the play. Directed by Rakesh Bedi, the play is about two ex-lovers, Preetam Kumar Chopra (Anupam) and Hema Roy (Neena Gupta) meeting after 35 long years, to discover the truth behind their separation.

The play was staged in the capital on Saturday, and will also be brought alive on Sunday. Anupam, whose actress wife Kirron Kher is a Bharatiya Janata Party MP, also shared a string of photographs in which Advani is seen applauding the actors on the stage. In one image, Advani can be seen with a microphone and seems to be sharing words of appreciation for the actors and director. He also appreciated the turnout for the play.
