WAR CRIMES TRIAL

4 major appeals pending with SC

Hearing on Nizami's appeal may end next month

ASHUTOSH SARKAR

Appeals of four top Jamaat-e-Islami leaders, among others, against death penalties handed down to them for war crimes are now pending with the Supreme Court and those would be dealt with one by one.

The convicts are: Jamaat Ameer Motiur Rahman Nizami, Mir Quasem Ali, ATM Azharul Islam, and Abdus Subhan.

The Appellate Division of the SC is now hearing the appeal of Nizami.

The SC might complete hearing Nizami's appeal by December 15, said Attorney General Mahbubey Alam while talking to reporters yesterday at his office.

After disposing of the appeal of Nizami, the apex court might hold hearing on the appeal of death-row inmate Quasem, and then of Azharul's and Subhan's, he said.

Besides, the appeals of condemned war criminals Mobarak Hossain, an expelled Awami League leader of Brahmanbaria, and Syed Mohammad Qaisar, former state minister of HM Ershad's government, were also pending with the SC, court sources said.

So far, trials of five war criminals have been completed with the SC's latest verdicts on Jamaat leader Ali Ahsan Mohammad Mojahed and BNP leader Salauddin Quader Chowdhury.

Mojahed and Salauddin were executed in the early hours of yesterday, as the apex court finally upheld their death penalty on November 18 for their crimes against

ATTACK IN RAOZAN TV reporter shot

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

A private television channel reporter was shot and injured at Raozan while he was returning to Chittagong city with his fellow journalists after covering the burial of war criminal Salauddin Quader Chowdhury yesterday.

The injured, Rajib Sen Prince, a senior reporter of Mohona TV, was admitted to Chittagong Medical College Hospital (CMCH).

He received a bullet injury to his left leg, said Rajib Palit, of the emergency department of CMCH.

A microbus carrying Prince, Mohona TV's camera persons Asaduzzaman Limon and Zahangir Alam and another private TV channel Etv's reporter Nayan Barua was attacked

Security forces on high alert; hunt on for 'several suspects' including Paris attacks fugitive

AFP, Brussels

The Belgian capital was locked down for a second day Sunday with police and troops on the streets as authorities reviewed whether to extend a security alert meant to prevent a repeat of the bloody Paris attacks.

With the world on edge over the jihad threat, US President Barack Obama said the most powerful tool to fight the Islamic State extremist group was to say "that we are not afraid".

In Paris, Defence Minister Jean-Yves Le Drian said a chemical or biological attack "was among the risks" faced but that all possible precautions had been taken.

Belgian officials were due to meet later Sunday to review the security alert in Brussels, imposed over fears jihadists were plotting similar attacks to those in Paris which left 130 people dead on November 13.

The city's metro system and public buildings were closed, with shops and restaurants

Water dispute with India to be resolved
Says PM

UNB, Dhaka

Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina has expressed her hope that the dispute over inter-country water flow between India and Bangladesh will be resolved as other problems with it have been resolved one after another peacefully.

"Recently, we've solved the longstanding land boundary problems [with India] by swapping enclaves while the maritime boundary dispute has also been settled. We earlier inked the Ganges Water sharing treaty, while discussions are on to settle the problems over inter-country rivers. I believe we'll be able to solve this too," she said.

Roman treasure trove discovered

CNN ONLINE

When you spot a glimmering object in your back garden, it rarely ends up being anything more valuable than aluminum-foil.

But one farmer in Switzerland has hit the jackpot after discovering a treasure trove of Roman coins thought to be more than 1,700 years old.

Further excavation -- with the help of the regional archaeological service -- revealed 4,166 coins buried in Ueken, in the northern canton of Aargau, Switzerland.

Landslide kills 100 in Myanmar mine

AFP, Yangon

Around 100 people have died in a huge landslide in a remote jade mining area of northern Myanmar, officials said yesterday, as search teams continued to find bodies in one of the deadliest disasters to strike the country's shadowy jade industry.

Those killed were thought to have been mainly itinerant miners, who scratch a living scavenging through mountains of waste rubble dumped by mechanical diggers used by mining firms at the centre of a secretive multi-billion dollar jade industry in war-torn Kachin state.

Saturday's massive landslide crushed dozens of flimsy shanty huts clustered on the barren landscape, home to an unknown number of people.

The disaster happened at about 3.30am local time and lasted just a couple of minutes, according to Zaw Moe Htet, a small scale local gems trader whose village overlooks the devastated area in the Hpakan mining area.
