HC asks DMCH to bear acid attack victim's treatment cost

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The High Court yesterday ordered the Dhaka Medical College Hospital authorities to provide treatment to Nazma Begum, an acid victim of Chandpur, for free until she fully recovers.

In response to a writ petition, the HC also directed police to arrest in 72 hours the miscreants who threw acid on Nazma, and to submit a report in this regard before it in two weeks.

Manzill Murshid, who moved the petition before the HC, told The Daily Star that some local terrorists threw acid on Nazma in Kachua of Chandpur on October 2 as she had given statements to police against some influential people in a rape case.

Nazma's husband Ismail filed a case with Kachua Police Station on October 3 against seven people but police have not arrested any of them as they are reportedly very influential, he said.

Manzill also said Nazma was admitted to DMCH for treatment, but she was released from the hospital before full recovery as she could not pay for some medicines.

A Bangla national daily published a report on the incidents on October 23.

Following the report, Manzill, president of Human Rights and Peace for Bangladesh, filed the writ petition as public interest litigation with the HC on November 22.

The home secretary; inspector general of police; deputy commissioner; superintendent of police, Chandpur; officer-in-charge of Kachua Police Station; investigation officer of the case, and the director of DMCH have been made respondents to the rule.

The Officers Association of Jahangirnagar University yesterday observed a daylong work stoppage demanding release of their general secretary, Abdur Rahman Babul, who was picked up from the campus by detectives the day before and later shown arrested on the charge of destructive activities during the protest movement by the BNP-led alliance.

Babul is also president of Dhaka district Jatiyatabadi Swachhasebak Dal, an associate organisation of BNP, said sources. Babul was denied bail and sent to jail yesterday.

Rallying in front of the vice chancellor's office, the officers said he has affiliation with a particular political party did not mean he was involved in destructive activities. They demanded the university authorities' initiative for getting him freed.

JU Teachers Association (Juta), JU Employee Association, and JU Employees Union expressed solidarity with the officers' demand.

Abdus Salam, president of the Officers Association, announced that the officers would refrain from work from 7:30am to 2:00pm every day till the release of Babul.

arrestees for four days each. According to the case, filed by Mizanur Rahman, inspector (operation) of Uttara East Police Station, their probe found that Miyata had been living in City Homes Hotel in Sector 6 for a couple of years and was abducted by her so-called business partners and their accomplices from the hotel on October 26.

The case statement added that the accused confined her to Fakrul's flat in Bashundhara residential area and asked her to bring money from her relatives for release.

At one stage, on October 29, they killed Miyata and decided to hide the body, the statement said, and later the body was taken to Maruful's Uttara residence.

They hid identity of Miyata and buried her at the city corporation-run graveyard at Sector 12 identifying her as Halima Begum, wife of late Babul Mridha of Jessore.

The statement also said that the Japanese embassy officials declined to file any case, so police did it. Yesterday, Dhaka Metropolitan Police, through a text message, convened a press conference at 11:00am on this issue but later cancelled the programme for "unavoidable reasons".

But a police officer said the briefing was cancelled on request from Japan embassy officials.

A deputy commissioner of DMP said Miyata was involved in garment business and had been living in Bangladesh for many years. Her visa expired in 2006 and since then she was staying illegally here, he added.

The arrestees claimed that they did not kill Miyata but rather took her to Bashundhara residential area as she owed the hotel huge money as rent, the officer said preferring anonymity.

Miyata died of a disease but they buried her secretly to avert problems, he said quoting the arrestees.

Govt trying to cut workplace deaths

The concluding day had three sessions. It began with a plenary session moderated by Dhaka University Professor Ahmed Kamal. There were three more speakers from ISSA who talked about industrial safety, among other issues.

After a short break, an open discussion conducted by Dr Quazi Quamruzzaman, chairman of Dhaka Community Hospital Trust, took place.

The speakers encouraged a healthy atmosphere at every workplace. They agreed that although Bangladesh is moving ahead in industrial development, hazardous incidents may undo the progress and worsen the situation.

Among others, Olaf Peterman, president of ISSA, Special Commission of Prevention; and Prof David Christiani, Harvard University, were present at the closing ceremony.
