

171 COMMUNITY CLINICS IN JHENIDAH Patients suffer as medicine supply stopped for 2 months

AZIBOR RAHMAN, Jhenidah

Treatment at 171 community clinics in six upazilas of the district is badly hampered as supply of government medicines has remained stopped for two months.

Of the 171 community clinics, 38 are in Sadar upazila, 39 in Shailakupa, 23 in Harinakundo, 11 in Kotchandpur, 33 in Moheshpur and 27 in Kaliganj upazila, said sources at the civil surgeon's office.

The then Awami league government initiated the Community Health Clinic Project in 1998 but its function stopped in 2001 after the BNP-led government came to power.

Later in 2009, the newly elected Awami League government resumed its function, facilitating easy treatment opportunity for the poor people, especially in remote areas.

In addition to prescriptions, patients are provided 29 items of medicine free of cost from the community clinics.

But since early October, supply of government sponsored medicines to the 171 community clinics in the district has remained suspended.

"Poor patients like me are suffering as we are not getting any medicine from the clinic for two months," said Rahima Khatun of Paikpara village under Kaliganj upazila.

Especially the diarrhoea, dysentery, and gastric patients are in great trouble due to lack of medicine, said Golam Rasul of Sadhuhati village in Sadar upazila.

Asma Khatun, Aleya Begum and Abdur Rashid echoed the same.

"Now we are providing only prescription to the patients as there is no supply of medicines here," said Asma Aktar, health

Couple held with pistol, bullets

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Chapainavabganj

Police detained a man and his wife with firearms at Nishchintapur intersection in Sapahar upazila of Naogaon district yesterday.

The arrestees are Ekramul Haque, 55, and his wife Minara Khatun, 42, of Sonadanga village in the upazila.

Phulbari was freed on this day in '71

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Dinajpur

On this day in 1971, people of Phulbari upazila in the district tasted freedom after the freedom fighters defeated the Pakistani occupation forces and hoisted the national flag as a mark of victory at the then headquarters.

Various programmes have been chalked out to mark the day, said locals and organisers.

The Pakistani occupation forces made a quick getaway from Phulbari on this day with the entrance of Indian allied force.

People came to the upazila town and rejoiced the victory, chanting slogans 'Joy Bangla', accompanying hundreds of freedom fighters of the area.

Following the crackdown in Dhaka on March 25 in 1971, the Pakistani army carried out arson attacks, looting, and killings of innocent Bangladeshis in the upazila with the help of their local collaborators in Phulbari like other areas of the country.

The massacre also forced many people to leave the area for safer places. Many of them took refuge in India.

On April 2, the occupation forces shelled heavily and entered Phulbari, Birampur, Nawabganj, Hakimpur and Choraghat upazilas and looted and torched the houses in the area. They also raped women and teenage girls.

In early December 1971, local freedom fighters launched a massive attack on the Pakistani occupation forces.

The fierce fighting intensified further after the Indian forces joined the freedom fighters. Finally they compelled Pakistani army to retreat.

Freedom fighter commander Monsur Ali Sarke hoisted the flag of independent Bangladesh at Phulbari C&B Bungalow in presence of Major PK Singh of Indian forces on the day.
