MP slammed for land 'grabbing'

According to the report, Akul on June 10 last year sowed plants on his land, but some people loyal to the lawmaker allegedly destroyed those by cultivating the land that afternoon. Mazharul even threatened Akul a week later, the investigation report says. Later on June 19, 25-30 people led by Mazharul chased Akul, Bhakaram Singh and Janok Chandra Singh with hand-made weapons. Akul eventually fled to India for shelter. Eight to 10 men and some other people were injured in the attack, the report says. Denying the allegation, lawmaker Dabirul told our Thakurgaon correspondent that it was totally false and baseless. A vested quarter is trying to tarnish his image by spreading such rumours, he alleged. Deputy Commissioner of Thakurgaon Mukesh Chandra Biswas said he along with

Superintendent of Police Abdur Rahim Shah Chowdhury visited the spot seven months ago following the allegations. "Practically, we didn't find any truth behind the allegation of grabbing land by the lawmaker," he said. He also said they did not find any evidence of torture on the minority people. However, Jiten Chandra Singh, one of the victims who lost two bighas of land, told reporters at the press conference that his college going son Ovalal Singh had fled to India following the attack. "He is not returning home despite my repeated requests in fear of attack by the land grabbers," he told The Daily Star. Talking to reporters, Akul said he was going through unbearable sufferings as it had become difficult for him to stay in the country.

Bangladesh lacks skills to utilise regarding coastal areas instead of depending on foreign consultants, said Prof Nazrul Islam, vice president of Bapa. He also said now it was time to learn from the mistakes and open the polders constructed in 1960s in the country's southwest region so that natural sediments could deposit in the polders. Comparing the usefulness of polders in Bangladesh and the Netherlands, he said the realities of the two countries were different -- they had different rainfall and land formation patterns. The Netherlands have to depend on polders but they create huge problems in southwest Bangladesh, said the professor. Rear Admiral (ret'd) Md Khurshed Alam, secretary (maritime affairs unit), the foreign ministry, said if Bangladesh could not use its resources by developing its capacity, other countries would take the opportunities. He called for opening oceanography programmes in universities. Economist Prof Wahiduddin Mahmud, Founder of Bishwo Shahitto Kendro Prof Abdullah Abu Sayeed, Vice Chancellor of Stamford University Prof Firoze Ahmed, Secretary General of Bapa Dr Abdul Matin, and Joint Secretary of Bapa Iqbal Habib were present.

Govt urged to cut ties with Pakistan

STAR REPORT
Bangladesh should not continue any relation with Pakistan because of its heinous role during the 1971 War of Liberation, said Dhaka University Vice Chancellor Prof AAMS Arefin Siddique yesterday, reports BSS.

He was addressing a discussion, organised by Bangabandhu Parishad, at the capital's Jatiya Press Club, marking Homecoming Day of Father of the Nation Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman. Meanwhile, member of Advisory Council of Awami League Dr SA Malek said no unity would be forged with those who had patronised terrorism.

Malek, also general secretary of the parishad, criticised the call of BNP Chairperson Khaleda Zia to form a national unity. Prof ABM Faruq, former dean of DU pharmacy faculty, among others, addressed the discussion. Our staff correspondent adds, Imran H Sarker, spokesperson of a faction of Gonojagoron Mancha, yesterday issued an ultimatum to the government to sever diplomatic relations with Pakistan within 72 hours. Or else, the Pakistan high commission in Dhaka would be besieged, he threatened at a rally at Shahbag in Dhaka. He said there was no chance to show mercy or compromise if any country assaulted the dignity of Bangladesh. "So we think the government should take a bold step right now," he said, adding that neither Pakistan and the United States nor any other country did have the right to talk about or look into the internal affairs of Bangladesh.
