Without mentioning Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, Khaleda in her speech had also said, "He did not want independence of Bangladesh; he wanted to be Pakistan's prime minister. Liberation War would not have taken place had Ziaur Rahman not declared independence."

In the complaint, Momtaz said he was hurt when he saw the news in different newspapers the following day.

The comments were not only tantamount to sedition but also defamatory, he said.

On December 23, Momtaz served a legal notice to Khaleda, asking her to apologise to the nation within seven days or face legal consequences. The BNP chief did not respond.

Earlier, two cases were filed against Khaleda over the same matter. PROTEST

BNP acting secretary general Mirza Fakhrul Islam Alamgir said the case was nothing but a mockery and that it had been filed out of political vengeance.

"False cases are being filed one after another against our leader [Khaleda]," he said while addressing a programme of Jatiyatabadi Krishak Dal, a pro-BNP farmers' party, at the Institution of Engineers, Bangladesh.

The BNP leader said there was no element of treason in Khaleda's remarks.

"She said the exact number of martyrs should be determined so that we can properly honour and respect them. I've already clarified it through a statement.'

Fakhrul alleged that the ruling party had divided the nation at all levels for narrow political gains.

Answering to a query, they said the cold wave might dissipate from Tuesday and temperature was likely to rise in a day or two. They said a mild to moderate cold wave was sweeping through Rajshahi, Rangpur, Khulna and Barisal divisions and many regions of Tangail, Faridpur, Madaripur, Gopalganj, Sitakunda and Srimangal.

Our Lalmonirhat correspondent reports the temperature fell further during the day to 9.2 degree Celsius yesterday morning.

Our Gaibandha correspondent reports that biting cold and dense fog paralysed normal life in the district over the last couple of days. Trains and vehicular traffic, switching their head lights on till noon yesterday, maintained low speed, reaching destinations several hours later than usual.

No passenger ferry boats left the Balashi ghat due to thick fog, snapping communication of char people in the Jamuna river basin.

In Kurigram, thousands of people from over 250 chars are suffering from the cold, reports our Kurigram correspondent.

Dr Nazrul Islam, residential medical officer of Kurigram Sadar Hospital, yesterday said, "156 patients have been admitted in the hospital today [January 25] with various cold related diseases while over 300 have been given treatment in outpatient department."

(BUILD) jointly organised the two-day programme to showcase the private sector investment opportunities in Bangladesh. The summit ended yesterday. The WB official said there is a need in Bangladesh to diversify into other sectors such as electronics, manufacturing and services, away from garments. Bangladesh now attracts between $1.5-1.9 billion a year in FDI, which is much lower than that of Vietnam's $90 billion, she pointed out. Investors, she said, prefer four major things in a country: the ability to consistently meet product standards, low production cost, low labour cost and market size. "Bangladesh obviously does well in terms of market size and competitive labour cost. But it does not do in areas such as compliance with international production standards, confidence in regulatory environment, access to skilled labour, easy cross-border movement of goods, labour, capital, and easy access to critical inputs such as industrial land, energy and power."

Quoting a study of Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency of the WB Group, Fruman said civil disturbance, terrorism and war are the topmost factors that put foreign investors at bay.

But one out of four corporate investors either withdrew from an existing investment or cancelled planned investments over the past 12 months not because of the three reasons, but for reasons that are within the control of the government, she added.

They include adverse regulatory changes, expropriation, nonhonouring of government's guarantees, breach of contracts and transfer and convertibility restrictions, she went on saying.

In Bangladesh, it takes 1,442 days to enforce a contract, and the financial cost of enforcement is 67 percent of the claim, whereas the duration is 400 days in Vietnam, and 453 days in China, and the financial costs are 29 and 16 percent of the claims, Ahsan H Mansur, executive director of Policy Research Institute of Bangladesh, told another seminar at the sum mit.

He said the country cannot afford this.

Hossain Khaled, president of Dhaka Chamber of Commerce and Industry, called for a new investment policy as the current one, formulated in 1989, is not forward-looking and only meets today's needs, but not tomorrow's.

Roberto Echandi, a WB economist on trade and competitiveness global practice, said countries have to be investment-centric to bring in more investors. He said retention of investors is Lawyer Sameer Sattar said Bangladesh needs to set up a special tribunal or High Court bench to deal with commercial disputes promptly.

SA Samad, executive chairman of BoI, said Bangladesh provides the investors with almost similar incentives like those in Vietnam, and the country also offers more facilities to overseas investors than the local investors.

"We ensure investment protection. Profitability of investments is high. Still, the FDI inflow remains low," he said.

Abducted Ctg girl rescued after 11 days

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg

Police rescued a 15-year-old schoolgirl on Sunday night, 11 days after she was abducted on her way to school in Sitakunda upazila by some youths.

The girl was admitted to Chittagong Medical College Hospital (CMCH) one stop crisis centre yester day morning for her medical test as she was allegedly raped by the kidnappers.

Family sources said the victim, a class-IX student, was kidnapped by around five youths, led by one Mobarak Hossain Razu, 28, on January 13. Razu, son of Towhidur Rahman of Nisanbag village in Noakhali's Senbag upazila, has a poultry farm in Sekh Para of Sitakunda and used to live there. He often harassed the girl on her way to school, the family alleged. When the victim did not return home from school, the family did not file any case, thinking it as a matter of elopement and considering it a social stigma, said a local.

All the parks should also be handed over to city corporations for better maintenance, he said. The mayor said he had initiated programmes on cleaning his part of the capital city with permanent secondary solid collection stations, installation of waste bins, greening the city with gardening, close circuit television (CCTV) cameras for security, a new fleet of public buses for better public transport, and U-loops for traffic discipline. He said one quarter of the city's buildings would be green with rooftop gardening and wall creepers all across the city in three or four years. He called upon all to stop rampant wall writing and pasting posters turning the city ugly. The mayor said he would have to go tough unless the practice was stopped in three or four months. He called upon the owners of new buildings to free roads and footpaths of construction materials. He said a strip of land along the fringe of Tejgaon old airport would help build a dedicated lane for joggers and cyclists, adding that a see-through wall in place of the existing 3km concrete boundary wall all around the airport would provide a relief in the cityscape for the passers-by. He also said installation of 72
