On April 27, 2014, Narayanganj panel mayor Nazrul Islam and his four associates, and senior lawyer Chandan Sarker and his driver were abducted and killed allegedly by some Rab-11 personnel. Their bodies were later found floating in the Shitalakkhya river.
Yesterday, Tareque Sayeed's lawyer Kibria said Selina Islam, wife of victim Nazrul, filed a case with Fatullah police on April 28, 2014, and 11 days later, Bijoy Kumar Paul, a relative of Chandan Sarker, filed another case.
An investigation officer has investigated both of the cases and submitted same charge sheets to the trial court, which is not allowed by the law, as an accused cannot be tried and punished separately for a single offence, he said citing from the quashment petition filed by Tareque Sayeed on February 24.

A woman and a child lie helplessly on the street after falling off a rickshaw, due to the reckless driving of a speeding bus, which caused the puller to lose his balance. The wheel of the rickshaw went over their legs, leaving them critically injured. Despite the road safety awareness campaigns, the traffic situation in the capital is worsening, especially because of the bus drivers; most of whom are unlicensed and have little to no knowledge about traffic rules and road safety. Pro-AL men's feud leads to Ctg road blockade

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Ctg
Vehicular movement remained halted for around half an hour on Chittagong-Khagrachhari highway at Fatikhchhari upazila yesterday, as local transport workers put a barricade on the road following an altercation between the leaders of two Awami League front organisations.
The altercation and scuffle occurred between President of Fatikhchhari Municipality unit Juba League Golam Maola Golap and Convener of Fatikhchhari upazila unit Sramik League Habibur Rahman, according to local residents.
Habib said he was president of Fatikhchhari Upazila CNG-run Auto-rickshaw Cooperative, but Golap had been "trying to get a post of adviser" of the organisation for a long time.
Golap, also a councillor of Ward 8 of the municipality, was rejected by the members of the cooperative, Habib said, adding that yesterday, Golap and his followers tried to halt the auto-rickshaw movement in the area.
"As we tried to resist them, they beat us up," Habib said, adding that some 10 workers including him were injured in the attack, and they took primary treatment.
Following the incident, Habib's followers put a barricade on the highway, said Assistant Sub-inspector of Fatikhchhari Police Station Abdus Sattar.
The barricade was withdrawn after police reached the spot. However, Golap denied the allegation. "There is no question of me trying to be an adviser of the workers' organisation," he said.
"I went there as some workers complained to me that the workers' leaders are extorting them every day."
"When I asked Habibur about the allegation, he and his followers quarrelled and scuffled with me," he said. ASI Sattar called it a "misunderstanding" between the two.

He wrote, "On behalf of the Latin American and Caribbean Heads of Missions visiting Bangladesh, in this historical day for the Bengali people, we are honored to present our respect in the memory of Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman."
"All the people of Latin American and Caribbean countries were very aware of the struggle of the Bengali people and the heroic actions of Bangabandhu."
Later, on behalf of the other envoys, Castellanos also interacted with the media and observed that Bangladesh could be a suitable place for the Latin American and Caribbean investors and Bangladeshi products including ready-made garments, pharmaceuticals and leather products have the good prospect of getting large access to their markets.

Neither males nor their female counterpart can move forward without cooperation between them, and development will not be sustainable without equal participation of the both genders; said successful women from different sectors in the country yesterday at a programme organised by Bangla daily the Prothom Alo at Chhayanaut Bhaban in the capital's Dhanmondi, marking the International Women's Day.
Special greetings were conferred upon Ayesha Siddika, a Bangladeshi poet who was duped and abused by traffickers in India.
Her poetry and short story collection styled "Ahoto Ami" (injured me), published last year from India in Malayalam language, was republished by Prothoma Books and launched at the programme.

think," she said.
Everyone should be free to choose and follow their dreams, irrespective of their genders, she added. Talbia, till date, undecided about her career, felt inspired by Hanne and was seriously considering the challenging life of a diplomat.
"If you manage to open a door for a person then life can change," said Hanne, stressing on reaching out a helping hand to people to realise their full potentials.
She said that the shadow ambassador concept is a concrete way of empowering a concrete woman. A number of other embassies in Dhaka including the American, Dutch, Norwegian and Brazilian are expected to appoint their own shadow ambassadors during the month of March, she added.
"We want to celebrate women who have something to offer and can make a difference in other women's lives and also want to mark that there are still a lot of challenges to be addressed," said Hanne.
She said societies prosper when full potentials of men and women are unlocked. Successful businesses have people from diverse backgrounds in senior managements, which provide better results.
Hanne said despite progress, women's rights continue to be one of the challenges for Bangladesh and the biggest among those is violence against women. Hanne also stressed the need for creating a safe space for women.
Hanne informed how Danish Embassy worked with the Ministry of Women and Children Affairs in setting up One-stop Crisis Centres and about Danish Embassy's project in the agricultural and infrastructure building sectors where both men and women are given training on agricultural matters and women workers are involved in building roads.
