The future plans of the enterprise include rearing organic livestock, getting produce like milk and eggs, and rooftop vegetable farming. The enterprise encourages its customers to grow vegetables on their rooftop and even sell them via Dhaka Dough. The main idea is to encourage everyone to grow their own fresh vegetables and get into the habit of organic farming. The company representatives assure that it is a healthy and easy practice and can be adopted by anyone who has access to their rooftop. They also suggest that if anybody needs help in train-
