

Adele to headline Glastonbury Festival!

Adele has been confirmed as the final headlining act for this year's Glastonbury Festival, taking the Saturday night slot on the Pyramid Stage. The singer made the announcement during her sold-out show at London's O2 Arena, with the news later being confirmed by festival organisers.

"Who's going to Glastonbury this year? See you there. I'll be there. I'll be headlining on the Saturday night this year," Adele told the sold-out crowd. Rumours had been swirling for weeks that Adele could be the final headliner, but the singer had previously said she was too scared of the big festival crowds. Adele also revealed that she almost played the festival last year, but had to back out to complete her album.

The festival confirmed Adele's announcement on their official twitter account, writing: "As Adele just announced live on stage in London, she will headline Saturday night at this year's Glastonbury Festival!"

KRISTEN BELL

says she starts recording Frozen 2 soon

Frozen 2 is getting underway sooner than we think. Kristen Bell, who voices Princess Anna, says she's expecting to return to record for the highly anticipated sequel later this month.

The actress told Collider during a recent interview that the cast is "just about to" start recording. "They've just written it and they're still doing tweaks, but I think we should be recording this month. The story is great, and they exude quality. What I know about that whole team is that they wouldn't just put something out to put it out. That's why it took them so long to even announce that we were doing a second one."

Bell says they haven't recorded any music for the sequel, either, but the music for Disney park events have kept her busy.

'Ok Jaanu' with Aditya not an intense love story:

They have starred together in a romantic-drama earlier, but Shraddha Kapoor says her forthcoming film 'Ok Jaanu' with Aditya Roy Kapur will be in a different zone. The actress worked with Aditya in the 2013 blockbuster 'Aashiqui 2', which was a breakthrough film for the duo. They will next be seen in Shaad Ali's 'Ok Jaanu', which is a remake of the Tamil film 'Ok Kanmani'.

"I am very excited for the film. Shaad will be directing, and I loved his 'Saathiya'. I think it'll be very interesting to be directed by him. It'll be amazing," Shraddha said.

Shraddha Kapoor

The film, produced by Karan Johar, revolves around two young lovers and deals with issues like live-in relationships. Meanwhile, Shraddha's film 'Baaghi' opposite Tiger Shroff is ready for release on April 29. The actress, who has often played the role of a sweet-bubbly girl, will be doing action for the first time in the movie.

