Everyday we face problems. Commuting, house help, mishaps in the education system, corruption- these are everyday issues that Bangladeshis constantly face with difficulty. The only way we can really move ahead is to find solutions for each of these problems and collectively work towards eradicating them. One of the finest methods we have come across of problem-solving now is, believe it or not, startups. Young minds all across the world are now joining forces to bring solutions to the problems of the world through startup businesses. Read about the 6 startups, that won the Innovation Xtreme Challenge this year that will help change the face of the nation with ground-breaking innovations and ideas, in today's Spotlight on pages 8 and 9.
