on Radio Shadhin tonight

Food Surfing WITH KC & Kazria

EVERY FRIDAY
5:00 PM- 6:00 PM

A CORRESPONDENT

With the private FM Radio industry expanding at a brisk pace, radio stations are constantly looking to stand out and give their audience something new and fun. Radio Shadhin 92.4FM seems to have found unexplored territory in terms of content that can potentially be very engaging: cuisine. Eating out is a big part of Dhaka's culture (especially because the city does not particularly provide a lot of options for leisurely activities or social gatherings) and Dhaka's heritage of food is being matched up by the new, more internationally-conscious eateries that are opening up.

The weekly show, "Food Surfing with KC", will air its first episode at 5pm today on 92.4FM, and will feature food writer and blogger Kaniska Chakraborty sampling cuisine at various restaurants and food joints in Dhaka a, along with the show's host Kazria. The show will also have a report card segment, where Kaniska will grade the restaurant on various grounds.

And for those who cannot imagine a food show without some visuals, there will be a video version of the show, uploaded on Radio Shadhin's Facebook page right after the episode is aired.

"Our biryani is more delicious than Hyderabad's" ... Jaya

SHAH ALAM SHAZU

Jaya Ahsan has been busy with shoots in Dhaka and Kolkata. Her film "Purno Doirgho Prem Kahini 2" releases today in Dhaka and other parts of the country. The national film award winner talked about her latest film in a conversation with The Daily Star.

What are your expectations from "PDPK2"?

Jaya: My expectations are sky high. I hope the audiences will come to theatre and receive the movie warmly because it is made purely with them in mind. I am counting on a box office success.

Why should people go to theatres to watch the film?

Jaya: Many reasons. First, it is an original story. It has a great plot. People always look for a good story in a film and I think this film fits the bill. It is a totally family movie, and you can enjoy it with your whole family.

Tell us about your character in it.

Jaya: I play the role of a model and my co-star, Shakib Khan, appears as a cricketer. At one stage, we fall in love but later some obstacles arise in our relationship. At the same time there is an element of patriotism in the film.

What is the music for the film like?

Jaya: The playback songs for the film are fantastic. Emon (Saha) did a very good job here. A strong plot and catchy music are the lifeline of a film.

Any memorable moments on the location abroad?

Jaya: The film was shot in Ramoji film city, Hyderabad. While Moushumi was busy with shoots, I along with (Shahidul Alam) Sacchu and Emon had a fun time shopping. But one thing I must tell you: our country's biryani is far better than that of Hyderabad.

What was your experience working with Shakib Khan?

Jaya: It is my second work with him. He is a successful protagonist of box office hits. I am very happy to have got him as co-star.

What is your shooting schedule right now?

Jaya: Recently, I've signed a film named "Lal Moroger Jhuti" under the direction of Nurul Alam Atik. Soon, I will leave Dhaka for its shooting. Apart from this, I returned Dhaka from Kolkata after wrapping up shooting for a short film directed by Indronil Chowdhury. Apart from this, I wrapped up shooting for the Kolkata film "Eagle Er Chokh" directed by Arindam Sheel. However, dubbing of the film is yet to be done.

Jackie Chan breaks out Bollywood moves

Farah Khan, who was choreographing Jackie Chan's moves for his upcoming flick "Kung Fu Yoga", has wrapped up the schedule. On the sets, the 51-year-old choreographer and filmmaker was spotted spending some quality time with Chan. While recalling this meeting, Farah took to her social media to thank the actor.

She wrote, "Legends of the fall!!

Wrap party! Lov my job! Thank u Jackie for being the soul you are!"

"Kung Fu Yoga" is an action-drama that features the 61-year-old Hong Kong martial artist in the role of an archaeology professor. It also features Sonu Sood and Amyra Dastur in the lead roles.

Farah recently shot the big, happy, Bollywood style-Chinese song in Jodhpur. "It's a Chinese song with Jackie (Chan), Sonu (Sood), Amyra (Dastur) and Disha (Patani) shaking a leg to the catchy beats," Farah said in a statement.

"Jackie has been wanting to do a Bollywood song for a while now and has promised to show off all these moves when he's in India next to promote the film. In fact, he is doing it so well that we now call him Jackie Jackson on the sets," she added.

Farah was floored by the international megastar's humility and professionalism. "Apart from shooting in the scorching heat, minus complaints, Jackie Chan also reported to the sets 15 minutes before call time," she said.

The film is set to release this October.

"Rogue One" trailer shows the first rebels

The first trailer of "Rogue One: A Star Wars Story" has hit the web. Anticipation has been building up for Gareth Edwards' spinoff tale of a group of rebels working to steal plans for the Death Star. Felicity Jones is seen in the thick of the action in the enthralling, action-packed first look, and fans are ecstatic.

In a first super short glimpse released earlier yesterday, a new kind of stormtroopers was in view, but the trailer, released later, did not show much more of it. Timeline-wise, it seems that "Rogue One" will take place between "Star Wars: Episode III - Revenge of the Sith" and "Star Wars: Episode IV - A New Hope". George

Lucas originally conceived of the story, and that it's one of several Star Wars stories not tied to the Skywalker. It also takes place during the same time period as "Star Wars Rebels", but apparently navigating that narrative isn't something that the Disney and Lucasfilms are particularly concerned about. For what it's worth, the movie might also feature a Han Solo cameo.

Apart from Felicity Jones, "Rogue One" stars Mads Mikkelsen, Ben Mendelsohn, Alan Tudyk, Donnie Yen, Forest Whitaker, Diego Luna, Riz Ahmed, and Jiang Wen, and is set to hit theatres on December 16th.
