

Udit Narayan, Shreya Ghoshal record song for SHUDDHI

Playback singer Udit Narayan has once again teamed up with Karan Johar to record a song for Dharma Production's forthcoming film "Shuddhi." "I have sung a song for Karan Johar's film 'Shuddhi', with Shreya Ghoshal. It is a peppy melodious song. We had sung some six months back," Udit said.

Kareena Kapoor Khan were roped in to play the lead roles but Hrithik backed out of the film due to health issues, after which Kareena left the film as well. Later, Salman Khan agreed to star, but things did not work out there as well.

Johar's much talked about home production "Shuddhi" has been in the news for quite some time now, mainly because of its casting. Initially, Hrithik Roshan and

There were also reports that rumoured couple Ranveer Singh and Deepika Padukone may do the film. But Johar recently announced on social media that "Shuddhi" will happen with cast Varun Dhawan and Alia Bhatt.

OBAMA GETS TO SEE NEW GAME OF THRONES BEFORE EVERYONE

"Game of Thrones" show runners David Beinoff and D B Weiss have revealed that US President Barack Obama wanted advanced copies of upcoming season of the HBO series. During the Hollywood premiere, Beinoff and Weiss confirmed rumours that Obama got advance copies of the new episodes.

"For both of us finding out that the President wanted advanced copies of the episodes, that was an 'ah-ha' moment," they said. Asked if they granted his wish, Weiss replied, "Yes. He's the leader of the free world." Beinoff added, "When the commander-in-chief says, 'I want to see advance episodes,' what are you gonna do?"

HBO decided earlier this year that they would not send press any episodes of the show's upcoming season 6 in advance in an attempt to prevent leak. "Game of Thrones" season 6 premieres on HBO tomorrow.

Liam Hemsworth 'not engaged' to Miley Cyrus

Actor Liam Hemsworth has revealed he's not engaged to singer Miley Cyrus following months of speculation. Rumours began to swirl when the former Disney star started wearing what appeared to be the same engagement ring Hemsworth gave her before they split in 2013. But Hemsworth has now dismissed the reports in an interview with TV Week. "I am not engaged, no," Hemsworth said.

However, the pair is definitely back and was recently spotted in public, together for the first time since reports began to surface that they had rekindled their romance.

The pair was seen enjoying a night out with friends and family after attending the premiere of "The Huntsman: Winter's War."
