

COVER STORY

Get, Set, RETRO

Trends never die. They are merely reincarnated in different forms. This simple truth is what makes the retro fashion scene as happening as it is. Be they the hippie bell bottoms or the baggy pants from the 90s, fashion is one of those rare arts that looks forward but has no qualms about looking backwards either. From the psychedelic to the straight up Mafioso, no look every truly dies out. This week, we take a journey through the evolution of fashion over the years, highlighting our favourites from days gone by and dusting off the mothballs from some old school styles. It's throwback Tuesday time!
