Radisson Blu observes Earth Day

The movement continues. Radisson Blu Dhaka Water Garden strode with pride on Earth Day, celebrated on 22 April, 2016 by more than a billion people across the globe. Recently upgraded to being silver certified by EarthCheck, the hotel continues its momentum to build an eco-friendly abode for its valued guests by organising various awareness programmes and implementing carbon remission activities. Tree plantation, double side printing, linen re-use, rain water harvesting and recycling vegetable waste are a few of the many steps which are executed by the hotel on a regular basis.

Committed to becoming better citizens of the planet, Earth Day was lined with a string of activities which consisted of heads of departments replacing halogen bulbs with LED bulbs (1393 50W Halogen bulbs were substituted by 5W LED bulbs which will result in power savings of Tk173084.40 per month), 'busy bee cleaning spree', reduced usage of heavy machinery and an unique contest where guests and employees were encouraged to submit ideas which were put up on an idea board. The best idea was rewarded a grand prize of an extravagant dinner for two at the hotel's popular Water Garden Brasserie, won by a guest.

"Radisson Blu Dhaka Water Garden is an exemplary for green initiatives and continues to inspire with groundbreaking ideas for honouring our planet and raising awareness", stated Christoph Voegeli, General Manager.

Earth Day is just one day, let's all make greener choices everyday which will indeed make a notable difference in the long run.

Kitchen solutions from Germany

If home is where the heart is, kitchens are clearly one of the vital organs that convert a house into a home. An eye-catching style of kitchen can complement the look of the home. Well, we often spend much in making the house look beautiful but sometimes the kitchen gets overlooked. And homemakers did not have many options to experiment with: either they could make the kitchen by hiring a carpenter or they could purchase readymade from the market.

But times have changed. The leading home furniture manufacturer and retailer, Hatil, has joined hands with Nolte, the most popular German kitchen brand. Nolte kitchens are unique in design, reflect your style and fulfill the vision you have of your kitchen - both functionally and aesthetically - while maintaining the integrity of the home. The philosophy is quite simple: Nolte provides design that reflects the personality and individuality of the client and helps the client have the kitchen that will work best for his/her lifestyle.

Nolte modular kitchens comprises of a wide selection of cabinets, accessories and fixtures which are combined in a planned manner that makes kitchen organisation and tasks easier and effortless. Cabinets are usually arranged to suit the customer's preference and proper utilisation of available space. One can choose from a variety of materials, finishes, handles and patterns.

Nolte kitchens have been displayed in a modern and lustrous 8200 square feet showroom in Jamuna Future Park, making it the largest ever kitchen display in Bangladesh. A total of 14 modern kitchens showcase the wide array of designs, colours, materials, equipment, accessories et al.

For an entry-level kitchen, a customer should have a budget of approximately Tk300000 to Tk400000 - not that expensive compared to ordinary carpenter-made kitchens. For a mid-range kitchen the customer can expect to have a solution at about Tk700000 to Tk1200000. For an advanced kitchen the price range is about Tk1500000 to Tk3000000.

Germany has a global reputation - just like it does in automobiles - in making the best possible kitchens, and Nolte kitchens are the perfect examples of uncompromising German sophistication representing class, aesthetics and functionality.

Anisur Rahman, Head of Business of the Nolte operations in Bangladesh, commented that the showroom has been generating a lot of traffic and all are busy in designing kitchens for customers. He further mentioned whoever wants to have a modern kitchen, irrespective of budget, must visit the showroom.

The concept of modern kitchens is becoming popular everyday as it offers latest equipment, accessories, and total comfort. If the surroundings are according to the tastes and needs of those working in the kitchen, it would be possible to do the work with sheer passion. Nolte's distinctive designs are combined with fine crafted custom kitchen cabinetry and materials to create environments that reflect contemporary sensibilities.

Modular kitchen is no longer a luxury but a household necessity matching your lifestyle.
