Flawless Air brush Glow by Farnaz Alam

At some point in the wedding planning process, every bride turns her attention to make up. Why won't you? As it can hide your flaws, cover up any shortcomings and create an illusion of flawless beauty. From covering dark circles to contouring your face for more definition, makeup can do wonders. Airbrush makeup has grown in recent years, providing a method to hygienically and flawlessly creating a beautiful canvas. A light-weight make up is applied through an air gun machine that sprays a thin, even layer of make up and creates a very soft finish. Basically a small amount of a very thin make up designed for airbrush use is put into the chamber of the gun.

Airbrush makeup provides flawless coverage by minimising skin imperfections while giving the skin a beautifully natural finished looking result. It is water resistant and will last for up to fourteen hours or more. The silicone based air brush makeup is water resistant offering a dewier finish. You can dance and not worry about sweat ruining your make up. You won't get tear streaks if you get emotional. Airbrush makeup is suitable for people of all ages and every skin condition. The makeup is hypoallergenic and fragrance free. In fact, airbrush makeup is the only makeup that is suitable for the new "High Definition" standard in television. In my opinion airbrush is the best option for special events because it wears well and photographs beautifully.
