MANISH PAUL

combines work with pleasure

Manish Paul is one of those few people who have managed to strike a fine balance between his TV, film and hosting assignments. The actor, who is currently shooting for 'Baa Baa Black Sheep', which also features veteran actor Anupam Kher, says that the flick is an action comedy and that audiences will see him play a different character.

Manish was recently in Turkey for work but decided to extend his stay so that he could take in some of the tourist sites of the city. Speaking to a daily, the actor said, "I was in Istanbul (Turkey) some days ago, and it would have been a pity had I not stayed on to spend some time there. So, once the work part was over, I decided to stay on a bit longer."
