

FEST OF FRUITS

SUMMER is the season people complain about the heat and humidity and the rainy season for being too wet. But these two seasons have a special attraction that nobody can deny. They are the seasons of juicy and mouth-watering fruits. This is the second week of the rainy season, which comes right after summer in the Bangla calendar. The market is flooded with popular fruits like mangoes, jackfruits, litchis, and pineapples. The fruits are also added to iftar as delicacies. The fruit season thankfully coincided with the month of Ramadan.

Photo: ANISUR RAHMAN

