

IRRFAN KHAN to Interview Delhi's Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal

The multi-talented actor Irrfan Khan is meeting with Chief Minister of Delhi for an interview related to his film Madaari. The actor is heavily promoting his upcoming film Madaari, in a very unique way by positioning himself as the "citizen" of India, rather than an actor.

The "Piku" star also interviewed the Rashtriya Janata Dal chief Lalu Prasad Yadav, during his visit to Bihar capital Patna. Irrfan is also said to be trying to set up a meeting with the Prime Minister of India as well. Madaari is inspired by the Saki Naka bridge collapse that occurred in Mumbai in 2012, and directed by Nishikant Kamat .

CHRIS MARTIN AND GWYNETH PALTROW FINALIZE THEIR DIVORCE

Two years after publicizing their divorce, singer Chris Martin and actress Gwyneth Paltrow finalized their divorce on Thursday, July 14. The former couple reached a settlement in May with both of them giving up the rights to spousal support during settling on child custody, visitation and support in a private agreement.

The Coldplay frontman got married to the iconic "Pepper" on December 5, 2003 at a hotel in Southern California. Martin and Paltrow have two children; daughter Apple Blythe Alison Martin, born in 2004, and 10-year-old son Moses Bruce Anthony Martin.

In spite of breaking up, the exes have remained close friends.

ALDEN EHRENREICH AS NEW HANS SOLO

Alden Ehrenreich will be cast as Hans Solo in the coming Star Wars standalone movie. This casting was revealed to the world at the Star Wars Celebration Europe event in London on Sunday. The "Hail Caesar" actor was the first to audition and had to beat around 3,000 actors who tried out for the famous role. Among the 3,000 actors included "Divergent" actor Ansel Elgort, Scott Eastwood, Miles Teller, "Harry Potter" star Tom Felton, and Dave Franco.

The role of iconic swashbuckler made famous by the great Harrison Ford will now be passed to the new generation actor after a rigorous course of discussions. The Hans Solo standalone film is set to release in 2018, and will be directed by The Lego Movie's Christopher Miller and Phil Lord.
