Rain Rage

You know the sort of people who share poems or songs about the rain as soon as a single drop hits their windows? The same people who ridicule your mud ruined shoes and wet clothes with their copied lines. What if they were in a CNG and one of the tires fell into an open manhole hidden by the rising sewage water? What if the CNG tilted into said water? Yes, we can make it happen with our Crowdsourced WillEnergy™ today! Just hold this copy of SHOUT and say the following line EXACTLY 7 times: "I will not believe random things written by strangers."

– Rumman R Kalam, Sub-editor of WillEnergy™, SHOUT

THIS WEEK'S HORRORSCOPE

ARIES
 Did you ever step into the darkness fearing you'll never find your way out?

TAURUS
 Everything is fun and games in the Big Box of Fun and Games.

GEMINI
 Humour is like soap; drop it in the wrong place and you're done for.

CANCER
 Twenty years have passed, and not a hint of facial hair.

LEO
 A good measure of a person's wits is his choice of underwear.

VIRGO
 Don't look into a mirror for a year. When you finally do, it'll be like meeting a long lost friend.

LIBRA
 Butter and a bit of creativity, that's all it takes to have a good time.

SCORPIO
 What if Rome WAS built in a day but they just want us to work more and earn less?

SAGITTARIUS
 Japan can be the land of setting sun; you only need to look at a map upside down.

CAPRICORN
 A stitch in time saves nine, but nine stitches in time puts you ahead of the game.

AQUARIUS
 Exams and round objects have a lot in common. They're all pointless.

PISCES
 The Truth always comes out; it believes its parents will understand.

APP REVIEW

TURNING PHOTOS INTO PAINTINGS

IQRA LABIBA QAMARI

Platforms: iOS, Android

Ever wanted to have yourself painted by the likes of Pablo Picasso or give your picture an effect from Breaking Bad? Well, all you need to do is download the filtering app that has taken the social media by storm – Prisma.

What sets it apart from other similar apps like Instagram is its ability to reproduce images from scratch rather than just applying layers to it. Consisting of more than 30 filters, they include the impressions of iconic art like The Scream and Van Gogh paintings, as proclaimed by the co-founder Alexey Moiseyev.

The app manipulates the images through an amalgamation of neural networks and artificial intelligence for the generation and the whole metabolism takes around a few seconds which otherwise would have taken a few hours sans Prisma.

The user interface is fairly unfussy that gets straight to the point without irrelevant jumbles of options. It instills the users with a sense of creativity as they can experiment and select from a range of filters and then swipe left or right to decrease or increase the intensity respectively after which one can share the picture directly into social media.

Overall, the novel approach along with the ripples of buzz it is creating, it is a must-have app to carry around in your phone.
