

#followmeto Dhaka

Now a days Dhaka is known as a city of traffic, buildings, noise, crowd and many other negative things. Besides all these unpleasant distractions, this historical old city has it's own symphony. It has a colorful history and rich cultural tradition. I always had a desire to experiment a photo series of this adorable city where I am spending my life. Russian Photographer Murad Osman's inspiration helps me to make my wish come true. Have done "follow me to Dhaka"
