MANI RATNAM

Gopala Ratnam Subramaniam, better known by his screen name Mani Ratnam, was born on June 2nd, 1955. He is a renowned Indian film director, screenwriter, and producer whose primary work has been associated with Tamil cinema. Despite being born into a family who was already established with the production of films, the children were not allowed to watch films as the elders considered it a "taboo", but by the age of 15, Ratnam took a seriousness in his admiration towards films, but it was not until much later that he decided to pursue a career in films. After a few unsuccessful attempts, he managed to develop a script which he turned into a film with the help of his uncle and a few other prominent cast and crew of that time. Even though his film did not earn him much at the box office, he managed to win the Best Screenplay Award in 1983 from the Karnataka State Government. From there onwards, Ratnam went on to excel in his career as a director. Soon enough, his films started gaining him international recognition and awards.

poraries, Mani Ratnam did not support anybody in film-making prior to entering the industry. He is recognized to have revolutionized the Tamil film industry and is credited for bringing new height to the South Asian cinema. Many of his films are characterized by a string of
