

Nargis Fakhri to Star in International Film

Glamorous actress Nargis Fakhri is set for another international film. The movie will be directed by actor-turned-producer Namrata Singh Gujral. The movie will star Oscar nominee Candy Clark and Golden Globe nominee Bo Derek. The film's theme will revolve around an American journalist who arrives in India to cover stories on Bollywood weddings. The film will be starting its operations by the end of this year and will be shot in USA and India. She mentioned that her character in the movie is something that she can relate to in reality as she has a similar story in a way that the character is forced to get connected with her roots, which eventually becomes a life-changing experience for her.

The actress made her Hollywood debut with film Spy, an action-comedy in 2015.

TATUM TO STAR IN UPCOMING MOVIE "SPLASH"

Channing Tatum will be starring in the 1984 classic remake of Disney's "Splash". The star will portray the character of the mermaid previously played by Daryl Hannah. Jillian Bell will be playing the originally portrayed character done by Tom Hanks.

The original movie released in 1984 included Tom Hanks as a man who as a young boy was saved from drowning by a mermaid. The mermaid returns after 20 years and finds the boy she once saved, and gives him the option between his life on land and a life under the sea with her. The script will be written by Marja-Lewsi Ryan.

Tatum and Bell have previously starred together in "22 Jump Street".

MORGAN FREEMAN in Talks to Star in Disney's "Nutcracker"

Actor Morgan Freeman is in negotiations to join Disney in its upcoming live-action-film "The Nutcracker and the Four Realms". Co-starring in the film are Mackenzie Foy and Misty Copeland. The live-action movie is based on "The Nutcracker and the Mouse King" by E.T.A. Hoffmann, an 1816 story in which a girl named Clara is forced to take care of a Christmas toy Nutcracker doll that comes to life and defeats an evil Mouse King with seven heads. If Freeman agrees to join the cast, he would play Drosselmayer, the mysterious godfather of Clara. Misty Copeland will be playing the leading ballerina.
